FEDERALS FORCED TO MOVE CAMP BECAUSE OF STENCH FROM INSURGENT DEAD.

Orozco Opening Champagne Bottles While Battle Raged, It Is Reported.

By The Associated Press.
At the Federal Headquarters of Gen. Huerta, Reilano, Mex., May 24, 10:30 p. m.—Gen. Orozco's rebels were driven out of this town by Gen. Huerta after a desperate battle are retreating further and further northward tonight. The rebels could be seen burning the big railroad bridge in front of Jimenez, now the rebel headquarters. Stench intolerable. The federal advance guard under Generals Rabago and Telles, reached the battlefield seven miles north of here today and found scores of rebels dead. The stench was almost intolerable tonight. Camp will be moved tomorrow on this account. Many dead were found in the trenches, victims of the heavy artillery fire of the federals. Twenty-six were found in one place and 76 in another. Prisoners captured by the federals declare Gen. Orozco was opening bottles of champagne early yesterday while the battle was in progress.

Many Enemy Deserting.
Gen. Huerta said tonight his men had found 600 rebels dead and wounded on the field. He estimated that of the 3000 men under Gen. Orozco, 2000 had deserted during the fight. The federal commander said he took 200 prisoners. His own losses, he asserted, were only ten dead and 38 wounded.

KENTUCKY CITY IS SWEEPED BY FIRE

LEBANON JUNCTION BUSINESS DISTRICT, LENGTH OF MAIN STREET, BURNS.

Sixteen Buildings Consumed by Blaze Doing Damage of Nearly a Quarter Million.

By The Associated Press.
Lebanon Junction, Ky., May 24.—The business section of Lebanon Junction was practically wiped out tonight by fire which swept the length of the town's main street. Thirteen business buildings and three residences were consumed and the two general stores and the hotel which remain were badly damaged. Two men, Charles Mullins and a negro, were hurt by falling timbers but not fatally. Flames were discovered when they burst from the windows on the third floor of the store of A. Davis, and spread rapidly, the town's fire department proving ineffective. A special train brought fire apparatus from Louisville, 30 miles, but the fire had burned itself out or had been checked before this help arrived. The loss is estimated at from $200,000 to $250,000.

BREAKS AMERICAN AIR RECORD FOR DURATION

By The Associated Press.
New York, May 24.—The American record for greatest duration of flight of an aviator alone was broken by Paul Peck of Washington in a spectacular manner at Nassau Boulevard on Long Island early this evening. For four hours, twenty-three minutes and fifteen seconds, Peck soared in great circles at a height of 2000 feet while below him the wind blew up to the rate of nearly 30 miles an hour and darkness finally hid him from view. Bonfires were started and lights set off but the aviator did not respond to the signals until after a thunder storm broke. Then he came down in the midst of lightning flashes and a downpour of rain. His time was kept by officials of the Aero club. The previous record made by Howard Gill of Baltimore was 4 hours, 16 minutes, 35 seconds.

NAVAL BILL ROUGHLY TREATED.

By The Associated Press.
Washington, May 24.—A rough reception was accorded the naval appropriation bill when consideration of that measure was resumed in the house today. One after another pet provision of the framers of the bill went out on points of order, although Representative Padgett of Texas and Representative Hobson of Alabama, of the naval affairs committee, pleaded for gentler treatment. Three of the principal reforms struck out include a change in the promotion and retirement of officers, based more largely on sea service than at present; the creation of a council of national defense, and the creation of the rank of admiral and vice admiral, to be bestowed on the commander of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets.

PRESBYTERIANS STAND PAT IN DECISION NOT TO LET FEMALES INTO PULPIT.

Committee on Vacancy Named to Secure Ministers for Pastors-Less Churches.

By The Associated Press.
Louisville, Ky., May 24.—Formal dissolution laid today of the 124th general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. of A. marked the end of one of the most successful years in the history of the church. It created one additional standing committee, that on vacancy, and supply designed to bring pastors without charge into touch with the three thousand vacant pulpits and consolidate the administration of relief and ministerial funds. A new intermediate catechism was adopted by the national assembly. The assembly declined to revise the attitude of the church toward women as ministers, declining to open to the suffrage-seeking sex the door to Presbyterian pulpits.

KATY SPECIAL TRAINS MAKE SCHEDULED TIME

W. G. CRUSH OF DALLAS ADDS MUCH TO PLEASURE—AUTOMOBILE SHOWS SPEED.

Arriving ahead of time, on time, and departing on time—that was the record made yesterday by W. G. Crush of Dallas, general passenger and ticket agent of the Katy, who was in charge of the four special trains. The right hand man was Tom P. Thornton, chairman of the transportation committee of the Associated Ad Clubs, who had much to do with the work. Leaving Dallas at 10 o'clock, the first train arrived in Waco shortly after 1:30 o'clock. The last section, carrying President Coleman, arrived 10 minutes ahead of time. The trains were operated at five-minute intervals and Mr. Crush and the Katy contributed much yesterday to the pleasing features of the day.

Relative to speed, Mr. Crush tells an interesting story of an automobile that left Dallas after the first section departed, arriving in Waco 30 minutes ahead of it, despite the fact that the chauffeur was held up 20 minutes at Lancaster for "speeding" and 10 minutes at Milford for the same offense. The car was a Maxwell driven by Wilbur Beatty, which was used in Dallas by Mr. Crush and Mr. Thornton while changing over the city making arrangements for the special trains. M. A. Schletter, manager of the Maxwell company in Dallas, offered to send the car ahead of the train for Mr. Crush's use in Waco. San Antonio, Galveston and Houston, and it will be in San Antonio this morning, having had accidents. Mr. Beatty leaving last night on the overnight trip.

STRIKE EFFECT LATER.

By The Associated Press.
London, May 24.—The full effect of the transport workers strike will not be felt until after the Whit Monday holiday. Although there was a cessation of work today by a large number of transport employees, many of the men still are at work, with the object of getting a week's wages to be used for holiday purposes on Monday.

WRIGHT'S CONDITION IMPROVES

By The Associated Press.
Dayton, O., May 24.—Slight improvement was noted in the condition of Milbur Wright this evening and attending physicians declared that the patient has a fighting chance for recovery from typhoid fever.

THE MORNING NEWS NATIONALLY ADVERTISES WACO

It was pretty nice of the boys to do it. The advertising brains of America sang the praises yesterday of Waco's progressive morning paper in every one of the four long special trains from Dallas. Long ere the curtains of night were raised by the sunlight and streamers of gold and of purple were shot across the sky and tints and blends made the fleecy clouds look like fairy fabrics woven in a magic loom; long ere the gray dawn slipped out over Waco's fertile prairies, before even the birds began to hop about and search for food, The Waco Morning News, carrying the night dispatches of the Associated Press, the largest news gathering association in the world, was on its way to the ad men, ahead of all other papers. Friday morning The Waco Morning News sent more than 1200 papers to the special trains, and every national ad man who started south found a Waco Morning News as early as 7:30 o'clock in his Pullman seat, before starting south. Competing with the largest paper in the state, a hundred miles away, The Waco Morning News met the occasion with a handsome edition, ahead of the Dallas News. The ad men know when energy counts, and accordingly made up songs to the tunes of popular ragtime for the praise of Waco's morning paper.

"It was good to see," said an advertising expert who gets a salary of $14,000 a year, "the boys on the streets of Dallas selling The Waco Morning News. Every one loves progressiveness, and your issue this morning not only outclassed every issue the boys got hold of today, but showed that Waco, a city of 40,000, supports a metropolitan paper."

Many of the national advertisers called on The Waco News yesterday and made arrangements for contracts, and closed contracts, saying many nice things about the city of actualities in the heart of Texas.

Many Facts and Fancies Feature Visitors' Visit

Even the police patrol was pressed into service yesterday to assist in carrying the last of the visitors to the Country club and over the city, and although a number of ad men shied at it at first, it became a popular conveyance.

"It's my first ride in a Black Maria," one of the men said, "but it was a good one. It sure had some speed, and I'm from New York."

The possibilities of using the wagon for a practical joke appealed to the Omaha delegation, who secured four policemen and had the wagon make a hurry call to Austin and Fifth streets. There a member of the Omaha delegation who had strayed away was "nabbed" as a "suspicious character" and started post haste for the police station. Mayor Mackey, seeing a beribboned man being hustled unceremoniously into the wagon, jumped into another automobile and overhauled the patrol. In explaining the joke to him, the Omaha visitor was "wised," and trotted.

Among the many prominent visitors with the ad men yesterday was Garner Curran, business manager of the Insurance and Investment News of Los Angeles, and P. L. Blanchard of New York, editor of the Editor and Publisher. Another was F. Kennington of London, who was scheduled to speak at the banquet last night, but who was excused. He represents four English, Scottish and German papers. Crooked advertising in England is impossible, he says, the country being so small that a grafter can never operate but in one place, owing to the publicity which is accorded him within a day. Mr. Kennington also represents the Oldfield club of London, and believes that the opportunities in Texas are the greatest in the world.

John A. Fox, commissioner at large for the San Diego (California) exposition, and who has many friends in Waco, renewed acquaintances here yesterday. Mr. Fox, three years ago, delivered an address in Waco and was instrumental in securing appropriations for making navigation possible on the Brazos.

The Roswell, N. M., delegation to the Dallas convention, many of whom are making the trip over the state, traveled to Dallas in eight automobiles, carrying thirty-five persons. They logged the Roswell-Dallas section of the transcontinental automobile drive. Among those who were in Waco yesterday were C. C. Cagle, president of the Ad club; Walter Brandon, advertising manager, and J. T. Lacy of the Roswell Morning News.

Richard H. Waldo, advertising manager of the Good Housekeeping magazine of New York, was a caller Friday afternoon. Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former chief chemist for the United States, is now a contributor to this magazine and may become managing editor. The Waterloo (Iowa) Reporter was represented by R. W. Parrott, advertising manager, and W. H. Michael, his assistant. Another newspaper visitor was Samuel M. Evans, editor and publisher of the Klamath Falls (Oregon) Northwest. P. W. O'Brien of Leavenworth, manager of the Missouri and Kansas Telephone company, and W. F. Gelsert of Dallas, southwestern passenger agent of the Baltimore and Ohio railway, also called on The News.

On the trip to Waco of the fourth section of the ad men's special train a stop was made at Hillsboro. A burro with the word "Hills" placarding it told the travelers where they were. President Coleman was forced to ride the burro through the streets, and after he had dismounted, citizens of Hillsboro presented him with the burro. They will ship it to him at his home in Boston. At this place a "hold-up" was also sprung, women going through the train with sixshooters.

"Southern hospitality as shown by Waco is certainly a revelation to the northerner," said O. R. McDonald, chairman of the Des Moines, Ia., delegation. "Our expectations were pitched pretty high for Dallas and Fort Worth. The splendid ad men of this place more than fulfilled our fondest dreams."

But on this little tour of the state we did not expect so much. Right here on the first day out we are received by another southern city with more than open arms. This ride in the automobiles scored a tremendous hit with our delegation. We thank the Waco residents for their wonderful hospitality from the bottom of our hearts."

H. M. Harwood, secretary of the club, and for several years a newspaper man of the Moines, was married yesterday. The bride, who was married with Texas and Waco and the reception they gave the ad men. Mr. Harwood while in Waco ran across an old fellow student; at the University of Iowa.

They are headed by St. Elmo Masengale. One Waco concern that will benefit considerably as a result of the visit of the ad men Friday is the Dr. Pepper Company. A number of heads of various advertising agencies called on Dr. R. S. Lazenby relative to interesting him in establishing branch bottling works. Several Pacific coast men who had never heard of Dr. Pepper until they arrived in Dallas, were surprised to learn yesterday upon their arrival in Waco that the home office of the company was located here. Dr. Pepper was served at the Country Club yesterday and also at the banquet. Dr. Lazenby received many compliments on his drink.

KILLER OF NEGROES GETS ANOTHER ONE

By The Associated Press.
Memphis, Tenn., May 24.—Send out here and get me; I have got me another man." William Latuna, white saloonkeeper, today telephoned notice to the police that he had killed Tom Gibson, a negro, Latuna won the negro's money—$100—in a dice game and claimed self-defense. Latuna killed five negroes within a few moments about five years ago. He was adjudged to have been temporarily insane at the time. He quietly surrendered to the police after today's killing, claiming self-defense.

ROUSING ENTERTAINMENT AND BANQUET FOR AD MEN

Waco Receives 1000 Publicity Agents of America and Tenders Them 1500 Plate Spread—All Impressed With City

FESTIVITIES END WITH CAKE WALK, MAKES A HIT

With a day and part of a night of pleasure in Waco a memory, members of the Associated Ad Clubs of America and their friends who arrived here Friday afternoon are this morning speeding toward the great southwest in their 1000-mile circle trip over Texas. Waco and Wacoans enjoyed entertaining the visitors, as was manifested during the few short hours here and expressions of praise were many and fervid last night when the ad men were gathered at the station waiting for the trains to leave.

Exactly 983 left Dallas, where the ad men's convention has just closed for the trip over the state and with others who made the trip to Waco, over 1000 were met at the station, carried over the city in automobiles, taken to the Country and Huaco Clubs, then to the Cotton Palace last evening for a most superb banquet, the largest ever given in Waco, and where over 1500 were seated, and then to the Cotton Palace coliseum where a feature entertainment peculiar to the south was tendered as the concluding event. That the welcome in Waco was pleasing to the visitors is evidenced by the fact that the crowd stayed together, practically all remaining for the entertainment which ended the festivities.

Genuine Welcome Accorded.

Traveling in four special trains, the ad men and others began arriving in Waco shortly after 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. With all Wacoans a reception committee of one, a hearty welcome was accorded and the visitors were immediately taken to automobiles and street cars for a trip to the country club where a box luncheon was served. Following, automobile rides over the city and surrounding country were enjoyed until 7 o'clock when 1500 sat down to a banquet in the machinery hall at the Cotton Palace. President W. V. Crawford of the Waco Ad Club, presided and Mayor J. H. Mackey delivered the address of welcome. Responses and other speeches were eliminated, it being impossible for the speakers to be heard. All then repaired to the Cotton Palace coliseum, where George Coleman, president of the Associated Ad Clubs, delivered a short address while the crowd gathered. Following, a negro orchestra and singers sang a number of songs and the evening was ended with a genuine southern cake walk, participated in by six couples.

Banquet Huge Success.

With the Alessandro and Baylor University bands vying with each other at the banquet hall, a scene and an event long to be remembered, occurred. There were style-conscious for Waco. Mayor J. H. Mackey, President Coleman of the ad clubs and for many others who were boosted into prominence. "My land, My Maryland," brought the Orleole state delegates to their feet. "God Save the King" was responded to by the Canadians and English. "America" was answered by all in the immense banquet hall rising to their feet and singing the four stanzas. The service at the banquet was excellent and many expressions of praise were heard. The banquet was the most pleasant and tendered so far on the trip was heard. There were not enough speeches to make the event tiresome, and those who were unable to hear Mayor Mackey's address of welcome appreciated the few fragmentary sentiments that were wafted to them. In all, Waco made good, and the ad men made good with Waco.

Representing the largest establishment in America, Waco was glad to entertain the visitors, and they, seemingly, appreciated every feature of the entertainment. Many compliments on Central Texas and Waco were passed, and in this respect, the Amicable building and A. R. Roberts shared in a large measure. That such a building as the Amicable existed this far south, or anywhere in the south, was a surprise to all who were not acquainted with conditions.

Praise Is Due. To Joe Sanger, chairman of the general arrangements committee of the ad club, under the auspices of which the entertainment was tendered yesterday; to President Crawford of the ad club; to Col. A. F. McCollum and to Mrs. W. H. Hoffmann who for the past three weeks have been rehearsing the negro orchestra and cake walkers; to Horace Flynn, chairman of the automobile committee and to H. M. Baine, president of the Waco auto club, credit for the successful execution of every detail of the entertainment is due. For the past three days, Mr. Sanger worked unceasingly for the affair and not an untoward accident, or anything that could possibly be considered as marred the day's pleasure or leaving a rankling thought, occurred. The banquet at the Cotton Palace last night was one of the most pleasant ever given in Waco, and when the magnitude of it is considered, Mr. Sanger gets all the more credit.

Entertainment a Feature. That the entertainment given under the direction of Col. McCollum and Mrs. Hoffman was a decided success, goes almost without saying, and the cake walk feature was a crowning event. Even Wacoans and those of the south, who are accustomed to negro melodies and dances caught the spirit of the evening.

Friday and Friday night, the ad men of America, the advertising brains of America, if you please, were Waco's guests. They are men accustomed to big things, and if Waco didn't make an impression, and tender a southern welcome that will linger, it was because more time was not afforded.

Mr. Crawford, who presided at the banquet last night, in his address, said:

Waco Appreciates Honor. "Since the arrival of your trains today we have endeavored to show you how much we of Waco appreciate the honor and the pleasure of having you in our city these few hours. It is a pleasure and an honor that we have long anticipated and one that those who have participated in the arrangements for your coming have tried to realize to its fullest extent. How well we have succeeded is for you to judge. We hope sincerely that the City of Actualities in the center of Texas with her vast resources, her skyscraper, her Cotton Palace, her beautiful parks and other features has made an impression upon you that will ever linger in your memory."

At Boston last year, we were shown here and there the monuments, that marked the hardships, the defeats, but in the end, the victories of those gallant New Englanders. The struggles of the Texas pioneers were not unlike those of their brothers in New England as you will notice as you travel through this great state, but here in Texas in this glorious age are being built monuments of development that are justifying the struggles and the hardships that those hardy pioneers endured in order that a new land might be established. In the development of Texas her cities stand as one, with the same love and determination for great success as they did in the city of Boston last August when they arrayed themselves against many good cities in their successful effort to bring the Associated Ad Clubs to Dallas and Texas this year. And be it said to the credit of our sister city Dallas, that while we made some pretty rash promises for her in order to secure this great convention, she made good in every instance and has repaid with full measure the effort of the other cities of Texas in her behalf by unselfishly working up this 1000-mile trip through the state.

In conclusion I want to say we want you to come again. Come when you can stay longer, especially in Waco."

Big Welcome by Big Mayor.

In his address, Mayor Mackey said in part: "All of our lives we have heard the expression that it takes all sorts of people to make a world and I believe it is true of even very small portions of the world. My observation is that nearly every community has its wide-awake citizens, as well as those of the Rio Van Winkle type. Its boosters and skeptics, the fellow with his little hammer."

"It's a big-hearted, philanthropic, progressive men who get the good things of this world, and who are able and willing to pass them along, the men who can see the silver lining to every cloud, and can point it out to others."

"I stand here tonight on behalf of a wide-awake citizenship, a broad-minded, big-hearted, progressive citizenship, to give greetings to the ad men of America, to bid you welcome to the City Beautiful, to

TO CELEBRATE SOUTH GETS IN RAISING OF FUND ON A MILLION FOR SCHOOLS

BANQUET TO BE HELD AT BAYLOR TO REJOICE OVER RAISING ENDOWMENT FUND.

Event Scheduled at Huaco Club Wednesday, June 5—Many Alumni to Attend.

To celebrate an achievement extraordinary, a banquet Wednesday, June 5, will be given Prof. Brooks, president of Baylor University and others who had a part in securing the required $600,000 endowment subscription. The banquet will be given at the Huaco Club, and will be attended by a large number of the alumni, and friends of the institution.

At a meeting of the Southern Educational Board, held in New York City about 2 years ago, a fund of $200,000 was given the university by the Southern Educational Society on condition that the college raise a companion fund of $400,000.

When the tidings were received by Dr. Brooks he immediately began the task of raising the required amount. Within a single week he had succeeded in raising $110,000. Inspired by the success his efforts had met with in Waco, Dr. Brooks went out into the state.

The result is that in less than two years the $400,000 has been raised. This, together with the $200,000 which will be turned over to the university by the Southern Educational Board gives Baylor University increased facilities, faculty, enrollment and will broaden the scope of the usefulness of the institution.

The banquet at the Huaco Club Wednesday, June 5, promises to be a fitting ending to the worthy achievement. All the alumni, former students, and guests of the university are invited to attend. The formal invitation, which has recently been mailed, urges all those who attend the commencement to plan to be present. Names should be sent in advance to secure seats. The tickets are $1 each. The invitation card is signed by O. M. Weatherby, chairman.

WHITE BOY CHAINED TO TWO NEGROES

A white youth, Carey Ingram, barely out of his teens, chained to two negro prisoners, John Jefferson and Barron Frye, negroes, was taken to the state penitentiary at Huntsville by Transfer Agent Miller. Ingram was sent up at a recent session of the Fifty-Fourth district court for two years on a charge of burglary. The negroes were charged with robbery and both received two year sentences at a recent session of the same court.

VATICAN SANCTIONS WEDDING

New York, May 24.—Her twelve years' struggle for the vatican's sanction of her wedding to Prince Rospigliosi has been won, according to the declaration of the Princess, who formerly was Marie Jennings Reid, of New Orleans, and later Mrs. Parkhurst, known as a Washington beauty.

The princess has been in America several months winding up the affairs of her mother's estate. Her friends declare she is as beautiful as when, 12 years ago, she surprised Italian royalty and American society by wedding the immensely wealthy bachelor, Prince Rospigliosi.

LOCAL MANUFACTURING FIRM SECURES BIG CONTRACT

THE ENTIRE FIXTURES FOR THE GOLDSTEIN-MIGEL COMPANY'S NEW STORE AWARDED TO THE MAILLANDER COMPANY.

The biggest order of store fixtures ever given to one concern, perhaps in Texas, has just been awarded to the Maillander Company by the Goldstein-Migel Company, who just closed the deal with the above factory for the entire fixtures for their new store, and while the amount of the contract has not been mentioned publicly, it is understood to be between $25,000 and $30,000, which will be further augmented as the fuller detail of the store plan is laid out.

This is a great compliment to a Waco institution, and is proof that store fixtures are made as well in Waco, if not better, than anywhere in the United States. This should add to a great forward movement in patronizing home industry, because it is only in this way that we can hope to see our city grow. And it is well within the bounds to believe that the Goldstein-Migel Company were very careful before placing so large an order, and they must have been fully satisfied that the work here would be of the highest order.

This is a great compliment to our rising young townsman, Mr. Fred Maillander, who already enjoys a remarkable reputation for making store fixtures and all kinds of bank fixtures and high-class cabinet work of the very highest order, and therefore should be supported by every Waco house in need of such goods as they make.

PART OF ROCKEFELLER ENDOWMENT FOR UNIVERSITIES OF SOUTHERN STATES.

More Than Fifth of Sum Set Aside for Farm Demonstration Work in Dixie.

By The Associated Press.

New York, May 24.—Nearly $1,000,000 was contributed to the cause of education by the general education board, founded by John D. Rockefeller, at its meeting here today. Of this sum $700,000 was appropriated for distribution among five colleges, the largest contribution of $250,000 going to the Geo. Peabody College for teachers of Nashville, Tenn., for the establishment of the Seaman & Knapp school. The other colleges awarded appropriations are: Beloit, Beloit, Wis., $100,000; Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Ia., $100,000; McAlester College, St. Paul, Minn., $50,000; University of Rochester, Rochester, N. Y., $200,000.

Gifts Conditional.

It is explained that the gifts to the college mentioned are all conditional upon an equal sum being raised by the respective institutions.

Aside from the college appropriations the sum of $210,100 was set aside for demonstration work agriculturally in the south, for professors or secondary education in state universities of the south and to aid the work of negro education in the south. The demonstration work appropriation is $133,000. The miscellaneous appropriations were:

For Southern Universities.

For professors of secondary education in the several state universities of southern states, $33,100; for supervision of negro rural schools in Kentucky, North Carolina and Virginia, $9,000; to three negro schools, Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va.; Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala.; and the Spelman Seminary, Atlanta, Ga., the sum of $35,000.

What may be regarded as the board's most important appropriation was that for the establishment of the Knapp school. The late Dr. Seaman Knapp had been in charge for the past ten years of the farmers' co-operative demonstration work in the south.

In connection with this gift the following statement was issued:

"The general education board recognizes that the George Peabody fund for teachers at Nashville promises to render conspicuous and permanent service in the promotion of popular education throughout the southern states. It also recognizes that the Peabody education fund during its long years of service to the south has been largely instrumental in bringing about the promising conditions which call for just such a institution as this enlarged college for the training of teachers.

It further recognizes that the affiliation of this institution with Vanderbilt University will greatly enhance the value of both institutions. The board has, therefore, watched with interest the progress in the movement.

"The education board has been interested in promotion of practical farming in the southern states and in the development of an efficient system of rural schools. The Geo. Peabody College for teachers proposes to train leaders for rural schools, not for the traditional rural school, but a new school, which shall meet the needs of an agricultural population.

TAFT'S FRIENDS IN FEAR OF COLONEL

ROOSEVELT WILL TRY TO TERRORIZER CONVENTION, DE-CLARES MCKINLEY.

Says Teddy Seeks to Oust National Committee Not Supporting Him.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 24.—The bitterness of the fight that is to rage about the republican national committee when it begins consideration of contests in Chicago June 6, was emphasized today by a statement from Representative Wm. B. McKinley, head of the Taft campaign forces.

Mr. McKinley declared it was becoming apparent that Colonel Roosevelt "and his followers will resort to every known means to temporize the Chicago convention."

Moral Stamina Test.

"That the time has come when the moral stamina of leaders of the republican party is to be tested, as it has not been since the civil war is certain," Mr. McKinley continued. "It is within the power of the national committee to make or break the republican party for many years to come. The party is strong enough to withstand the shock of any attack within or without but no party can survive a compromise with principle or an abandonment of all principle."

The McKinley statement was given out as the result of widespread reports that Col. Roosevelt desired the removal from the national committee of certain members whom he knew to be strongly opposed to him. Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt manager, was not in the city today but his close associates declared the Roosevelt committee men gave no approval to stories that the national committee was controlled against their candidate. Mr. McKinley's statement was followed by another from the Taft bureau in which it was asserted that telegrams circulated by the Roosevelt headquarters tending to show that the Taft supporters were considering a compromise candidate were without foundation.

Taft In Fight to Stay.

"First, last and all the time," said this statement, "President Taft is in the present fight to stay and his friends will stay with him until he is renominated and re-elected."

The statement by Manager McKinley was most open and direct. "It must be expected that those national committeemen whose conduct may force them to disagree with Mr. Roosevelt will be openly denounced by him," said Mr. McKinley. "And the whole committee will be misrepresented and vilified, collectively and individually, by Mr. Roosevelt exactly as he has misrepresented and denounced those who have hitherto disagreed with him during his political career."

Says Committee Fair.

"The friends of President Taft believe that the republican committee as now constituted is representative of the republican party and that it will do its full duty by the party at Chicago. The friends of the president will not try their cases of contested delegates before the country until the national committee meets. To the country at large the friends of the president protest against the tactics now being employed by Theodore Roosevelt in an endeavor to excite popular passion against the members of the controlling body of the republican party before an iota of evidence in the 'contest' to be decided has been laid before that body."

LA FOLLETTE SAYS HE ISN'T PROHIBITIONIST

ANSWERS QUERY OF CLERGYMAN RIGHT OFF BAT AS TO HIS STAND ON LIQUOR.

By The Associated Press.

Asbury Park, N. J., May 24.—Senator La Follette became involved in a controversy with a clergyman here today. The Rev. J. T. Scott, a veteran Indian missionary of 40 years' experience, called to him from the floor.

"Senator, may I ask you one question which will call for a short answer?"

"Go ahead," said La Follette.

"Do you believe in prohibition?" asked Mr. Scott.

"No," answered the senator.

The crowd cheered this answer and Senator La Follette went on.

"I don't think that is quite fair of you. That had not entered into the discussion of the campaign and is not an issue but you have an answer."

"Colonel Roosevelt will be here tomorrow and President Taft Monday. Put them the question you did to me and see if they answer it as I did. On that question as on others, I mean what I say and say what I mean in words that cannot be mistaken."

MOTHER MAY TESTIFY SON SHOT HUSBAND

By The Associated Press.

Glasgow, Ky., May 24.—Mother love will undergo a severe test, people in this section of Kentucky declare, when Willie Nuckolls, a sixteen-year-old lad, is placed on trial, accused of having slain his stepfather. Willie's mother, it is said, was the only witness to the tragedy that ended in her husband's death and the arrest of her son.

The victim was Craven Crews. He was killed last Sunday night while standing in the window of his home. Neighbors, aroused by the shooting, hurried to the Crews home where they found Mrs. Crews faint, crying that her husband had been shot.

An examination of the body showed shot gun wounds. The arrest of Crews' stepson did not take place until late at night when Willie was placed in the Tompkinsville jail to await a hearing.

The Crews are wealthy. On the night of the wedding, Willie declared he could not stand "step-fathers" and left home.

WILL NOT CALL NAMES.

By The Associated Press.

Des Moines, May 24.—"There is much religion in not calling a fellow a 'Sheeney' and an Italian 'Dago' and a negro a 'dingey'," declared the Rev. Marquis James of Brookline, Mass., in addressing the Northern Baptist convention here today.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB

HAS CALL MEETING

Yesterday found a call meeting of the Woman's club at the library. This was only for some matters pertaining to the internal direction of the club study.

THE COLONIAL BRIDGE

PLAYS WITH MRS. LENOX

In entertaining her card club, the Colonial Bridge, on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Lennox chose to have only the colonial twelve which constitute the club, together with Miss Kate Friend and Miss Ruby Black to play the hands of absentees. Mrs. B. F. Dancer, who had been withdrawn for some months returned and invited the club to play next with her. The plate favor went to Mrs. E. F. Drake who really made a lower score than Miss Black, but the rule of the club retains the plate within the club. Miss Black's trophy was the spoon. Mrs. Lennox catered nicely to the comfort of her guests for the warm afternoon and brought the game to its finish by serving an ice and cake in quite an acceptable finish.

THE MAIDS AND MATRONS

WITH MRS. WILLIAMSON

In receiving her card club, the Maids and Matrons, which, by the way, is the only club playing five hundred, Mrs. James D. Williamson added quite a number of special guests. This, with an extra game favor and additions to the unusual refreshment course, gave the club all the importance of a card function. Mrs. George Tod took the prize for the leading score. Mrs. Beauford McKinney of Pittsburg, the guest, and Mrs. Charles Parker the consolation. In serving her refreshments, Mrs. Williamson offered sandwiches and fruit cake with her ice, and a confection. The next game will be played with Mrs. Herman Houk on North Fifth. The guests with Mrs. Williamson were Mesdames Tod, W. J. Lincoln, W. E. Spill, H. K. Brewster, Charles Parker, Pio Crespi, Ludwell Williams, Houk, Robert Coleman, Forest Goodman, Lee Coxan, Walter Greig Layton, Puckett, Fitzgerald of Dallas, R. T. Crawford, A. V. Cross, R. G. Weddland, Shel Sparks, J. W. Whitworth, McKinney, Misses Queen Burnett, Agnes Taylor and Nellie Dancy.

PROGRAM FOR RECITAL OF ENTERPRISE CLUB

This afternoon will find a large audience, guests of the Enterprise club for the annual complimentary recital. This will be at the library promptly at half after 2 o'clock.

Quartette, S. O. G. Shoo Ambrose
Miss Autrey, Mesdames Bishop,
McMullen and Barnard.

AN AU REVOIR SHOWER GIVEN MISS MAUDY ANDERSON

It was not a novelty shower but a novel shower given Miss Mary Anderson on Thursday afternoon. As has been announced, Miss Anderson is leaving with her third diploma from the Baylor University music department to study a year in Germany. That she leaves also with the good will of many friends was shown in the friendship demonstration of Thursday afternoon. Appreciating the faithful service of Miss Anderson as organist of the Austin avenue church the women of the congregation were at home in her honor in the parlors of Mrs. H. D. Knickerbocker. One of the callers in giving her report remarked, "I entered to find Miss Anderson in the center of the room with her traveling case at her feet, and worlds of beautiful and useful things around her which she was surveying with evident pleasure." It had been a shower of those articles which the voyage might find useful or pleasing. There were dainty little manicure pieces, many articles useful to the tourist and above all, every assurance to Miss Anderson that were presented with a heart full of friendship. There was the cordial welcome, parlor music, a refreshment service, and callers all through the two hours. Miss Anderson is making ready to sail next Wednesday which means that she is with her home friends only another few days.

FLAG FOR CAMERON PARK OLD GLORY TO WAVE THERE

It has developed much sooner than the most sanguine had hoped that there is to be a magnificent flag waving over Cameron park. As soon as the appeal went out Mr. Edward Rotan responded promptly with the offer of a flag. Almost as soon, the William Cameron company sent in the cheering news that the pole, the best that can be had, would be forthcoming. This was at once conveyed to Mrs. H. C. Harmon, regent of the Henry Downs chapter, and at a call meeting yesterday morning steps were taken to have the flag raised. Mrs. Rotan reported that her order had gone, and the dimensions will be given the Cameron mill, who will turn the pole in proportion. This will be painted, set in a cement bed, and ready for the formal raising of the tri color. In the meantime, Mrs. Harmon will appoint a committee from the Henry Downs chapter to arrange a formal program. It is now intended that every child in the city will be invited to Cameron park. Doubtless there will be patriotic songs by the school children and other exercises. This will be on National Flag Day, June 14th or as soon near that date as can be conveniently arranged. Thus another attractive feature will be added to the city's recreation ground. We of the South do not pay the same homage to the national flag as is done in the North. It is now the purpose of the Henry Downs chapter to inculcate some of this patriotic feeling as the origin of the Daughters of the American Revolution in patriotism, honor to our forefathers who gave us this national flag.

The chapter meeting yesterday also brought the returns from the picture show patronage and this was sufficient to make the debt on the work for the Old Spring cancelled, the expense of the year paid, and a small balance in the chapter treasury.

MRS. KILLOUGH AT HOME

FROM PANAMA TRIP

It is quite a privilege to hear Mrs. R. B. Killough express her impressions of Panama and intervening points which she has just enjoyed together with Mr. and Mrs. John Sleeper. First of all, Mrs. Killough comes out with much spontaneity: "I never in all my life was so proud to be an American." In this she says all through the zone there is greater deference paid the Americans than to any other nation. She says the greatest respect of all is shown the American man and his American dollar. But the scenery, the relics of the time before the Americans invaded Panama, the ruins of the older civilization, it is all wonderfully interesting. Mrs. Killough pronounced it fascinating itself to watch the wonderful work of the canal. She speaks of an army, thirty thousand strong, starting out every morning. Some take the pick ax, some go into the blasting tunnel, some ply the boats, some run the trains, all busy as bees in the greatest feat man has ever undertaken. The hotel and other service is all American, full of comfort and up-to-date. The climate is about as it is with Waco. Not a fly and not a mosquito is known (not just like it is in Waco). The trip was every moment a joy. Mr. and Mrs. Sleeper, fresh as they are from European travel, found much of the same antique interest. There are native shops for the several nations—Japanese, Chinese, Italian and so on. All are attracted to this fast commercializing spot. It is very entertaining to hear Mrs. Killough and Mrs. Sleeper recount the incidents of their month. Their friends are giving them more than a cordial home welcome.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mrs. J. W. Downs is complimenting Mrs. Paul Montgomery of Oklahoma, with a reunion of old friends on next Wednesday afternoon. This will be one of the real pleasures of the week, since Mrs. Montgomery has been absent from these friends for some time.

Mrs. T. D. Hays is planning a social session for her daughters' study circle. This will come on Tuesday.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. Frank Allen is entertaining her Sunday school class of young ladies. These annual social afternoons in her home is one of the most significant social features of the Sunday school year.

This afternoon with Mrs. Allen, an au revoir to several members of the class who are taking early departure for their respective homes.

Mrs. Lars Ockander has issued invitations for a reception at the Elks' club during Wednesday afternoon. This is in compliment to Mrs. Ockander's sister, Mrs. Nettie Campbell, from Dallas.

Since Mrs. Westbrook fails to gather sufficient strength for the long travel the Westbrook-Cowan party for Europe is abandoned. Mr. and Mrs. Westbrook are in Hot Springs. Mrs. Cowan will be absent from the city for the entire season, but her destination is yet the question. Mrs. Brewster and Miss Pauline, who were members of the party, are still to make the tour and sail on June 8th.

The decorations which were so much admired at the Ad men's banquet were due to the taste and the generous response of Mrs. R. L. Matthews.

The Emerson club is out at Cameron park this afternoon with the little folks to enjoy a picnic as the club closing. The gavel will there be passed from Mrs. J. W. Holloway to the incoming president, Mrs. Lyles.

It is now expected that Mrs. M. R. Willis, with Mrs. Mattie D. Willis, will be at home from Stamford on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayless Harris, who have had two months in Japan, are now ocean bound for America. They are due to land in San Francisco June 3rd, after which they make a leisure return through California, Colorado and Oklahoma, which will bring their arrival in Waco about the first of July.

The W. E. Colgin home now building on West Austin is assuming such proportions that the completion is in sight. This, however will not be earlier than midsummer.

The marriage of Miss Maud Wood of Los Angeles, is of great interest to the bride in prospect's friends here. This will be in June.

It is quite encouraging to hear the reports from the various women in all parts of the city as regards the practical work they are doing for the alleviation of suffering to the dumb animal. It is true that where one woman speaks out for the brute, there will be one dozen women. And yet the men are in the congested district and in constant association with those who inflict the greatest cruelty. Why do they not add their voice to this crying need in this community?

The delay of Miss Gertrude Bush in leaving for the North is due to a house party which Mrs. J. P. McElroy is forming for her West Texas ranch. Miss Bush is to have this pleasure before joining her mother and sister in New Hampshire.

Mrs. James B. Naker was detained from her expected trip to Galveston for the opening of the causeway. This was owing to the illness of the little granddaughter.

Blunder rather than an unfortunate have reported three hundred dollars raised from the Waco women's two tag days, when the real count was three thousand.

The Eleven A. at the high school is holding a jubilee over the class record, at least the girls. Not a girl had to stand examinations, owing to the high class record for daily recitation.

The Mary West chapter did not meet Wednesday on account of its being a fifth Wednesday. There will be a Sunday celebration of Jefferson's birthday, which comes June 3rd.

Mrs. T. Jeff Smith is leaving on Monday for the closing exercises of Milford college, where Miss Mildred Smith is at school. Miss Smith returns with her mother late in the week.

The Cotton Palace directors are just beginning to take up the woman's department. Something interesting will soon develop by way of announcement. It is hoped that the women who are requested to take responsible positions will be public-spirited enough to do so. All have not the time and some have not the ability, therefore, the few whom the directors consider favorable should make the sacrifice for the good of the community.

Mrs. Boyd Moore of Beaumont, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. E. M. Dotson of Eighth and Speight. As Miss Pauline Dotson, Mrs. Moore spent four years in this city, a student of Baylor university, hence her visit is a matter of pleasing note to many friends.

Mrs. J. R. Hector is due from Austin today. She will be the transient guest of her cousin, Mrs. L. B. Black, on Columbus street.

Mrs. Agnes Harn is in Oklahoma, the guest of her daughter, formerly Miss Mattie Harn.

Miss Eva Harris, after an extended visit in the Gulf states, reaches home today.

Mrs. K. A. McKinney of South Third, has been called to Alabama by the extreme illness of her aunt.

Miss Bertha White left for Austin yesterday. After a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, she returns to be with Mrs. Norman Shumate again before her home-going to Bonham.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sleeper with Mrs. R. B. Killough, are at home from Panama.

Miss Hurwood, who comes from Tennessee to visit Miss Jimmie Riggs, arrives tomorrow.

Mrs. Richard Burleson of the south side, is due from her visit to Gainesville on Monday.

After a fortnight with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. Shapard returned home to Austin yesterday.

Mrs. Bennett came up from Austin on Friday to pay a visit to her sister, Miss Lizzie Evans, of Abel Place.

Mrs. George Tyler is up from Belton spending several days with Mesdames D. R. Wallace and R. B. Dupree on Austin.

Miss Marie Chambers of North Fifth, is in Houston.

Mrs. J. R. Davis of Seventeenth and Franklin, left yesterday to attend the funeral of Frank Davis in Fort Worth.

Mrs. J. B. Cornish and her guest, Mrs. Raynor of Pennsylvania, left last night for a few days with friends in Houston and a run over to Galveston.

WOMEN SEEK TO SAVE ONE OF SEX FROM CHAIR

By The Associated Press.

Boston, May 24.—Hundreds of women in Massachusetts are working to prevent the execution of the death penalty on Mrs. Lena Cusumano, who, with Harry Mascioti, is sentenced to die in the electric chair during the week of June 2 for the murder of Mrs. Susumano's husband.

Mascioti was brought to the state prison today from Plymouth.

WILSON SAYS CANAL WILL BENEFIT OTHER NATIONS

By The Associated Press.

Trenton, N. J., May 24.—The United States is the most unselfish nation in the world, Governor Wilson told 300 delegates to the Inter-national Navigation Congress, who visited Trenton today. After practical abolishing her merchant marine by legislative policy the nation now is building the Panama canal, opened inside the city.

CALL POLICE TO KEEP WOMEN IN ORDER

OFFICER MOUNTS PLATFORM TO STILL TUMULT AT CHICAGO
COMMITTEE MEETING.

Feminine "Regulars" and "Insurgents" Clash and Uproar Following Is Heard in Street.

Chicago, May 24.—A policeman was called to restore order at a meeting of the county central committee of the Women's Party of Illinois, at a hotel here today when "regular" and "insurgent" members clashed over alleged "arbitrary" tactics of Mrs. Myra Strauss-Hartshorn, president of the committee.

"Ladies, you must keep order here or be put out," shouted the policeman as he mounted the chairman's platform but the women only laughed at him. Finally semblance of order was restored and the policeman left the room.

Trouble Week Brewing.
The trouble had been brewing since a week ago when a faction headed by Mrs. Charlotte Rhodus sought the central committee incorporated under the name of the women's party of Cook county, Illinois. Mrs. Hartshorn and her faction prepared to oust the Rhodus faction by making a new law providing that no persons who belonged to the new party could hold membership in the old organization. After the by-laws had been read by Mrs. Rhodus and some followers attempted to explain their stand but Mrs. Hartshorn by free use of the gavel defeated their efforts. The uproar then became so loud that persons in the street, several floors below could hear cries of "you are out of order," "that's untrue," and "let's all go home." It was at this point that the policeman was summoned.

IS WOMAN GOLF CHAMP.

Englewood, N. J., May 24.—Mrs. Victor M. Earl of Englewood won the women's metropolitan gold championship today by defeating Miss Marion Hollins of Westbrook in the final round over the links of the Englewood course club. The margin was 6-up and four to play. Mrs. Earl was in the line up last year.

"COFFEE TRUST" SUIT GROWS COMPLEX

RIGHT OF UNITED STATES TO SEIZE PROPERTY OF FOREIGN
STATE IS QUESTIONED.

Defendants' Counsel Intimates It Is Matter for Diplomacy, Not Courts.

New York, May 24.—Coffee and questions of international magnitude came to light today when the federal government proceeded with its newest move under the Sherman law to break up the Brazilian "coffee trust." Prominent counsel clashed with the government attorneys and judges of the court of appeals took issue with some of the propositions made by the federal prosecutor. The issue mainly resolved itself into the right of the United States government to seize and sell $10,000,000 worth of coffee, the property of a foreign state, because of an alleged illegal combine in controlling the coffee market.

Coffee Held Up.
The coffee in question—approximately 950,000 bags—has been held up under temporary injunction against the New York Dock Company, Herman Seligman and others as alleged parties to the "conspiracy," and today's proceedings were arguments for and against making that injunction permanent. United States Circuit Court Judges Lacombe, Cox, Noyes and Mard reserved decision.

Joseph H. Choate took up the arguments on behalf of the defendants. "I have always thought," said Mr. Choate, "that the property of a foreign state cannot be dealt with by the judicial department at all, that it must be dealt with by the executive through diplomatic sources. Wrongdoing by one nation cannot be redressed by the judicial department. The right to redress this wholly lies with the executive department. The coffee has not gone anything."

JURY FOR THAW DENIED.

White Plains, N. Y., May 24.—Trial by jury denied "was the only memorandum filed today by Justice Keogh in the case of Harry Thaw, who in his recent legal efforts to obtain his freedom from the Matteawan state hospital asked that his sanity be passed upon by a jury. Justice Keogh will himself pass upon Thaw's mental condition."

NEGRO WANTS TO GO TO THE PEN FOR LIFE

BLACK CHARGED WITH ASSAULT ASSERTS INNOCENCE, BUT WANTS PROTECTION.

George Price, the negro who is being held in connection with an alleged assault upon a white girl in Tyler, more than a week ago, asked Jailer Kennedy for the privilege of pleading guilty to the charge, that he might be taken to the penitentiary by Transfer Agent Miller, who was in the city and at the jail preparing to depart with three short-term men for the institution at Huntsville.

The prisoner pleaded that he might be allowed to go with the agent to the penitentiary, where he said he was sure that he would receive protection from the hands of the mob that he says will surely get him if he is taken to Tyler. "Boss, I am not guilty of any crime at Tyler, but I am willing to plead guilty to it, if they will promise to send me to the pen for life," wailed the negro, as the officers attempted to allay his fears. He asked for bananas, explaining that they were the only fruit or edibles of any kind that he cared to eat at the present time, and they were desired because he said they could be eaten with little or no difficulty.

The negro was arrested Thursday morning near South Bosque by Deputy Sheriff Frank Craven and Phil Hobbs of this city and Deputy Sheriff Turner of Tyler. The negro was at work in a cement tank when arrested and the officers claim he came from Tyler a few days ago. Persons will arrive from Tyler within the next few days and will make an effort to identify the negro.

SAYS PAPERS DEFEATS G. O. P. FOR PULP DUTY

Washington, May 24.—In a speech in the senate today in opposition to the house steel bill, Senator McCumber of North Dakota, a member of the finance committee, attributed the unpopularity of the Payne-Aldrich bill and the subsequent election of a democratic majority in the house to the split in the republican party and the opposition of the press because the measure did not provide for the free admission of print paper. Free paper, he asserted, had been the price of the friendship of the magazines and the big newspapers.

TRIANGLE WAIST OWNER GETS TWO VICTIMS MORE

New York, May 24.—In separate accidents, a girl was run over and probably fatally injured and a youth was struck and badly hurt today by an automobile belonging to Max Black, one of the proprietors of the Triangle shirt waist factory, which burned last year with a loss of about 148 lives.

TAFT BEATS PINCHOT.

New Haven, May 24.—President Taft will succeed himself as elective member of the Yale corporation. Gifford Pinchot, '89, was the only other alumnus who received the requisite twenty-five votes for the nomination, and he has withdrawn, leaving Mr. Taft as the only candidate in the field.

WOULD END WAR.

By The Associated Press.

Paris, May 24.—The idea of assembling a congress of the European powers in an endeavor to settle the Turco-Italian war seems to be gathering force. It is understood here that Turkey is favorable to such a suggestion. The Temps this evening thinks that while it is too early to form definite conclusions Italy is not hostile to it and this would mean a solution of the conflict. The newspapers understand that Italy is even ready to abandon her previous insistence on the decree proclaiming the annexation of Tripoli.

France is, it is believed, ready to join in any neutral effort at mediation and diplomats everywhere are discussing its feasibility and looking for means to launch the proposition of a congress.

BRINGS REFUGEES FROM MEX.

By The Associated Press.

Matatlan, Mex., May 24.—Returning northward from her cruise along the Mexican coast with 365 refugees aboard, the United States transport Buford, commanded by Captain Ely, arrived here today. Five cases of typhoid fever among the refugees were reported. All are said to be doing well.

Captain Ely reports the utmost courtesy and good feeling was shown the Americans by Mexican officials.

As safety now seems assured, several refugees will disembark here. Should it become necessary to leave the country, departure can be made by train.

On May 22 a spirited battle in which 10 rebels and one federal were killed was fought at Ecunapa. The federals are now in possession of that town.

PERU HOLDS ELECTION WITHOUT REVOLUTION

By The Associated Press.

Lima, Peru, May 24.—Excitement over the presidential election, voting in which begins tomorrow and will continue until next Tuesday, is intense throughout the republic. Guillermo Bullinghurst, mayor of Lima, and Senor Aspilaga are the rival candidates for the seat of President Leguia, whose term expires in September.

The prefect of Lima has ordered that during the election all liquor sellers shall close their places at noon. Political meetings at night and the gathering in streets of been prohibited.

fore it came into his mind "Thou shalt not steal." His conscience was troubled. He thought he would carry it back at once, but then it was so nice. He, however, decided at last, to be honest with the command, and not to steal. So he returned it and went away, if not with the orange, with what was better, a clear conscience. Appeal to Reason.

Girard, Kansas, U. S. A., May 25, 1912

THEODORE ROOSEVELT was in office seven years. Do you remember how many bosses he shot with his elephant gun while he was president? Didn't they thrive like green bay trees?

—President Taft in speech at Zanesville, O., May 4th, 1912

The Little Red Box

The Little Red Boxes are being mailed as rapidly as possible to those comrades who have pledged themselves to send one subscription each week until the APPEAL's subscription list reaches the Million mark. Every reader of this paper who is interested in Socialism can without any difficulty secure one subscriber a week. In this work we are asking those of you who are not already engaged in the pleasant task of picking up subscribers to join the social crusaders. There are now more than 30,000 members of the APPEAL army. By far the greater number of the 500,000 subscriptions sent to the APPEAL during the past forty weeks have been sent to us by the 30,000 active workers who are on the job all the time. The other 50,000 are the occasional workers who send in the subscriptions of their neighbors with their renewal. It is to these 50,000 casual workers that we are addressing these words. If I could make the suggestion any stronger, I would do so. But you realize the need fully as much as I do and therefore I shall merely present the plan to you, confident that your own interest in Socialism and the APPEAL will prompt you to respond with your pledge and your first list of four subscribers.

SOUND ECONOMICS.

To the wage worker nothing is more important than sound economics. He cannot understand clearly how he is robbed nor how to put an end to the robbery unless he is fundamentally clear in his economic knowledge. The subject involves study, but it is not difficult to grasp. To one it may come easier than to another but all can and should master at least its essential principles. Loose thinking is responsible for much of the confusion and many of the complications which arise in the labor movement. Mental indolence is the curse of many a worker and many another is afflicted with the scarcely less pernicious habit of indifferent reading and slovenly thinking.

The wage-worker's highest duty to himself is to be true to himself, to understand his interest and how to prove it; his mental deficiency and how to develop it; his moral shortcomings and how to improve it; his economic servitude and how to abolish it.

Let the workman keep steadily in mind the fixed and unalterable fact that who is done by him must be done by himself and that no one else is fact that while as an individual he is weak and helpless, as a class nothing can resist him—he has the power, economic, political and social, to overturn the world and re-create society, from the bottom up, to suit his own desires.

Economics is not merely the study of the working class, most of whom take capitalist economics for granted, little dreaming that the economics of their class are studiously barred from their sight and knowledge in the educational program and processes of the ruling class.

Every working man ought to know why he has to depend upon a capitalist for a job; why his employment is uncertain; his wages small, and his condition precarious, and how he is to overcome the difficulties that environ him, secure the mastery of his own job, secure to himself the product of his labor, and walk the earth in joy and freedom, and this is possible only by close and careful study of the economics of his class.

He should take advantage of every means of educating himself along the lines of his class interests, he should read the best literature with care and discrimination, attend lectures addressed by competent speakers and develop his own capacity to master the questions involving his freedom and well-being.

Don't take the word of anyone for granted, and don't be satisfied with having read a cheap tract or pamphlet, but go deeply into the solid literature, read the current Socialist papers and magazines, the best of them, and make yourself the master of the subject. You will then be secure against the wiles of your exploiters and the treachery of your misleaders and become a factor in the great struggle for progress and freedom.

When the rank and file are sound in their politics and on the straight road to freedom.

TAFTIAN GEMS.

A man asked President Taft at a meeting he was addressing what a workingman should do who could find no work and was starving. "God knows" was the swift and satisfying answer.

At another meeting the president was discussing his friend Roosevelt when suddenly he exclaimed: "I have been a man of straw long enough," and this brilliant outburst was cheered to the echo by his approving audience.

At a later meeting the president was again discussing Roosevelt when he suddenly let this go: "When I do fight I want to hit hard. Even a rat in a corner will fight." Again the audience broke loose in unbounded enthusiasm. A rat in a corner will fight and therefore the President will do the same. So would any other man of straw.

And this is the capitalist president of the United States! Can you beat it?

They say Harry Bone feels like a cancelled postage stamp. He has been licked.

SOME succeed because others are suckers.

WHEN liberty is attained love and leisure will also come.

WHEN the workers of the world unite they will not be the tail of the kite.

If you don't want all you produce the thing to do is to continue voting the old party tickets.

THE working class does everything and has nothing. The capitalists do nothing and have everything.

THE hope of the capitalist parties is one—that Socialism will not force the workers off the backs of labor.

WHEN Socialists poll a million votes perhaps they will quit calling it a foreign movement that has no place in free America.

LABOR produces wealth. Labor loses wealth. The Capitalist uses wealth. Commonwealth means wealth for the use of all.

SOME who are sticklers for keeping holy the Sabbath day are equally anxious to keep holy everything else they can lay their hands on.

It is estimated that there are at present five millions of people in enforced idleness in the United States. This is the best capitalism can do. It is about time it was set aside by a system that can employ all.

THE APPEAL is unable to print the many fine letters that were received from all over the country by the editors at Fort Scott, but it wishes to assure the writers that the fine spirit of comradeship was very encouraging in the time of trial.

If you would like to have a home and shop of your own, it means that you want what Socialists are seeking in a practical way to provide for you. It will be two weeks after judgment day before you can accomplish your ambition under the present order.

Our June 22nd edition, No. 864, will be the first conscientious endeavor to put sides of the question of Socialism squarely on to the voting public. This edition will answer, for all time, the objections made to Socialism by our opponents. Every Socialist should join in the work of putting this edition into the hands of every man and woman in the United States.

When Taft had just been inaugurated president he wrote the following to Roosevelt: "I can never forget the power I now exercise which was voluntarily transferred from you to me and that I am under obligations to you to see that your successors are selecting me as your successor and bringing about the succession shall be vindicated." So it appears that Roosevelt was really a king maker and that the people are not considered as having had anything to do with the king maker. It is time that both the king and the king maker are given to understand that Americans are able to control America without the aid of either of them.

We have had no word from Father Vaughan to reply to our telegram offering him the use of the first page of the APPEAL to show to our readers the fallacies of Socialism. Father Vaughan holds a commission from the Pope at Rome to stamp out the growing heresy of Socialism. Here is an opportunity for him to reach with one stroke 90 per cent of the Socialists in the United States. There are a good many advertising firms in the United States who would be willing to pay us $25,000 cash for the first page free to Father Vaughan. If Socialism is wrong the Socialists want to know it. For fairness and generosity I believe that you will agree with me that this offer of the APPEAL's has no equal.

LABOR AND TAXATION.

All taxes, direct or indirect, are paid out of the products of labor, but the working class are little interested in the specific question of taxation on that account.

The question of taxation, including the tariff, is distinctively an issue between the warring elements of the ruling class, the capitalists, big and little, and they should be left to fight it out among themselves.

The workers are very easily deceived for the reason that but few of them study economic and political questions—and even yet—thousands of workers are deceived and humbugged by the protective tariff, heralded by the vote-seeking politicians as the great and only invention to protect American free horn citizens against the pauper labor of Europe—pure rot for star-spangled banner jackasses.

It is not through taxation that the workers are robbed but through exploitation. Whether taxes are high or low is of little consequence to them. Their wages barely cover their living expenses and as a rule they have no property to assess.

It is when they receive their pay on Saturday night that they are robbed of all they produce above their cost of living and this is the fact that they must clearly fix in their minds instead of allowing themselves to be muddled by the chattering politicians with their slush and harangue about tariff and taxation.

When the boss hands the slave his pay at the end of the week that pay covers only a small part of the wealth he produced, the boss keeping the bigger share for himself, and that's where the robbery takes place and that's where it has to be attacked and put an end to. It is the wage system that must be destroyed by the united economic and political action of the workers, and the industry by appropriating to their life and useless slaves the wealth produced in the sweat of the slaves.

The Appeal Offers Space Worth $25,000 to Its Opponents

NO propaganda in the world has ever before dared turn over its main weapon of defense to the opposition. This is what the Appeal has done. We have offered, in good faith, our entire first page of the issue of June 22nd, to Father Vaughan, and invited him to give his reasons why this nation should not adopt the principles of Socialism. Father Vaughan recently delivered a series of lectures in New York in which he assailed Socialism and Socialists in a most vigorous way. He announced that he had been commissioned by the Pope of Rome to come to America and stem the rising tide of radicalism that threatened to overthrow the beloved institutions of capitalism. Feeling sure of our position and conscious of the firm foundation upon which Socialism is established, I telegraphed the reverend father offering him the use of our entire first page. The boldness of this offer will challenge attention, as it is designed to do. The sense of fair play predominates in the average man's make-up, and this offer to turn over to our bitterest opponent space for which any one of a dozen large advertisers would be willing to pay $25,000, will appeal to Mr. Average Man as no other form of propaganda will.

No reply has as yet been received from Father Vaughan. We are proceeding on the assumption that the celebrated father is honest in his attack on Socialism and that he wishes to reach those who have been "seduced by the siren song of Socialism." Here is an opportunity for him to go straight to the center of the Socialist camp. His failure to accept our offer will force thinking people to conclude that he fears honest discussion.

Father Vaughan and his associates have made certain very serious charges and allegations against the Socialist party and its adherents. He would have the public believe that Socialism stands for free love; for anarchy; for a division of property; for the destruction of the home; for the abolition of religion. If he can prove these charges, then the Appeal will cease to be an advocate of Socialism. But he cannot prove them!

The Appeal will guarantee a circulation of more than one Million copies of our edition of June 22nd. This will place a copy in the hands of practically every man and woman who will vote the Socialist ticket at the coming election. Come, Father Vaughan, and make good your charges. The truth alone can prevail.

The Great Socialist National Convention

It's Debs and Seidel.

By telegraph to the APPEAL.
 Indianapolis, Ind., May 17.—Debs and Seidel for 1912—that is the ticket. Took but one ballot in each case to determine choice of convention. Anarchy and Socialism were completely divorced after one ball of cooperation by clause in constitution publishing with explicitness any advocacy of sabotage or violence. Discussion on this question was very warm, but vote was more than two to one against sabotage after question was left to roll call. The convention was the Marxists while vote was being tabulated. Big parade and speech by Seidel in the evening.

(The platform adopted appears on page two.)

BY A. M. SIMONS.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 16.—The national convention of the Socialist party has settled many things. Not the least of these is that the party is more united than ever before in its history, that it shows no inclination to go off after strange gods in the way of new and freakish tactics, that it is now a great, powerful, smooth running machine in the best sense of that word, controlled and directed by the workers, and that it is going to move into the coming campaign with a momentum that will carry it to heights beyond the expectations of the most enthusiastic.

From the very first day when the convention opened with its rules of procedure outlined in advance, several permanent committees ready to report with a host of other preliminary work performed in advance of meeting through each day's session this convention has shown itself more harmonious, more efficient, more capable of doing things than any other previous gathering. Yet it has lost none of the democracy that is such a fundamental characteristic of Socialist conventions.

Each four years has seen a multiplication of the tasks that must be accomplished by a convention of the Socialist party. Now that the Socialist movement has become something more than a mere gathering to voice a protest against capitalism, now that this party has set before it definite tasks of accomplishment, of construction, that the Socialist movement is beginning to lay the foundations of a new society there are a host of things to be done that were never suggested in the early days when propaganda was all.

This taking up of new functions is seen in the creation of new organs. Besides the committees on the work of women, on farmers, education, commission of government and immigration, whose members have been working for the last two years and who came here with carefully thought out reports filled with information upon their respective subjects, the convention itself, on the first day of meeting, elected a long list of committees. Some of these dealt with temporary matters connected with the convention, or with more or less routine affairs. Such were the committees on ways and means, on auditing, publicity and contested seats. Happily there was no work for the latter.

Then came committees on constitution, resolutions, platform, reports of national officers, international relations, foreign speaking organizations, relation of labor organizations to the party, co-operatives and state and municipal programs.

This meant that each question that came before the convention was first carefully considered by a small body, generally nine, of those whom the general body considered most fit to handle the subjects. Then the matter came before the convention in a carefully digested form, having already been discussed by representatives of various points of view. The only work then remaining for the main body is to decide the issues thus presented to it.

So far the committees have done their work so carefully that in almost every case only the smallest amendments have usually been made to committee reports. Yet there has been full and free discussion on the floor of the convention, and decisions have almost always been by very large votes, showing that the will of the majority was being expressed in the work.

The reports of the committees are a mine of information in regard to some of the subjects discussed. They give a picture of a real convention at work, not a gathering of wire-pullers, of vote-changers, of politicians for personal advantage, but of a class confident of its strength and already preparing the way to its coming victory.

Those familiar with similar gatherings were not much surprised at the disappearance of a struggle over the trade union question. It is frequently the case that where there are long preparations for a fight that the cause of the fight disappears in the preparations. It was so in 1904 on the question of "immediate demands" in the platform when the platform committee's report, over which it was predicted the convention would split, was adopted unanimously and without debate.

So after long weeks of discussion in the press, after days of apprehensions and fencing for advantage, the labor or the farmers committee brought forth a unanimous report after a few speeches all expressing the spirit of solidarity, it was adopted without dissenting vote. It is a compromise resolution. Each side declares itself completely satisfied with it. Each declares that there are a few who whisper a fear that perhaps the desire for harmony has covered up real antagonisms and that these will break out when the question of the interpretation of the resolution on the platform and in the press comes to be taken up in discussions and in propaganda work.

The farmers program met with little opposition although it had been rejected by every previous convention. Conditions in agriculture, in the party and in the views of the delegates have all changed with the years, and the Socialist party now goes forth with a clear statement of its position in regard to the farmer, that should mean a tremendous growth in agricultural localities in the near future.

Another fight was predicted over the platform. For several days and nights the committee toiled almost without cessation, and constant rumors of divisions, minority reports and threats of anarchy were in the air. But no minority report appeared and the platform went through with but few changes from the form reported by the committee.

Among the demands in the working program is one for the abolition of the federal courts, a direct outgrowth of the fight by the APPEAL to Reason.

This battle of the APPEAL and the federal courts was by no means the only echo of the class struggle that broke upon the convention while it was in session and helped to influence its proceedings. At every session telegrams were received from battle fields of labor asking co-operation or assistance. It seemed as if every hour brought word of a new outrage, a new act of wage-slavery that should mean a tremendous growth in the number of delegates. When the first one was received it was referred to the national executive committee which held an immediate session in the rear of the convention hall and returned in a few minutes with the report that $500 had been appropriated and with telegrams of protest to be sent to the authorities whose duty it is to prevent such outrages, and to the workers on the firing line assuring them of support and sympathy.

Resolutions denouncing the attempt to judicially murder J. J. Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti for a killing committed by a policeman were also adopted and backed up with funds to assist in their defense. This was also accompanied by an appeal to the Socialist organizations throughout the country to come to the aid of these workers.

The report of the action of Judge Hanford of Oregon in revoking the citizenship of a Socialist because of his denunciation by a resolution, but steps were set on foot through Congressman Berger to secure his impeachment and removal from office.

Guiterrez de Lara told the story of the battle of the Mexican revolutionists and the threat of American interference and the convention responded by setting in motion the effort of American capitalists to use the government of this country in aid of the ruling class of Mexico.

Word came of the passage of an act by the Massachusetts legislature of a law threatening with imprisonment any person who should seek to prevent enlistments in the army or navy and the convention replied with a resolution providing for a more active propaganda among the soldiers and sailors of the army and navy and by urging a more active campaign against militarism.

All these things went to testify to the very evident fact that in gaining greater efficiency, in perfecting organization, and in laying the foundations for broad constructive action there had come also a spirit of even greater militancy, more determined defiance hostility to ruling class tyranny than ever before.

Funny Story of the Flag.

Local Socialists had arranged for a big parade to take place on Sunday night. On this fact hangs a story with a joke in it and all the delegates are trying to find out just whom the joke is on. Here is the story; make your own guess as to who is entitled to laugh.

As soon as the news of the parade reached the press some brilliant reporter asked the Indianapolis chief of police if red flags would be carried. "Not a red flag," was his assurance. Then the Socialists raised a protest, and Socialists are always a protest. For several days the battle waged hot, in the Indianapolis papers. Finally Comrade Berger visited the chief, assured him that Socialists were not a final bludgeoned and asked for a final decision. The chief backed down and said the Socialists might carry all the flags, red, green or any other color, that they desired.

Then came the rejoicing over the victory and a cry that the red flag should now fly. Whereupon someone looked around for such a flag and the terrible truth was unearthed, that there was not a single red flag in Indianapolis. The Socialists had all been so busy at work on realities that no one had thought of emblems. At the last moment the convention was so busy at work raising a flag and then it began to dawn upon the people of Indianapolis that while Socialists were willing to fight for their principles, they were wasting very little time or attention on popinjay police officers and the capitalist press.

The Overall Incident.

While the delegates were laughing at the moral or the point of the flag incident, another happening added to their mirth. The local Socialists had decided that it would be fitting to inaugurate the convention with a parade. Some of the delegates thought since the overall were more of a badge of wage-slavery than of class-consciousness war against slavery, and also thinking that such an action would smack of affectation objected to this proceeding. The battle grew warm as it was discussed in lobbies and committee rooms. Just as the time came when this momentous question was about to be projected on to the floor of the convention, it was discovered that casus belli (which in this case is Latin for overalls) had been paroled, and there was no time to bring another pair. So the convention was inaugurated in an hearty enthusiastic manner by Comrade Ott of Indianapolis, dressed in his Sunday best.

The real point of these stories is that where such incidents occur, and where delegates are laughing, there is confidence, and solidarity, and a faintly of victory. There could be no better augury for a successful convention than that it should be begun with joy and laughter.

The New Platform Free.

The new platform, adopted at Indianapolis last week, is being put in leader form by the APPEAL. An order has been given to a Kansas City firm to print ten million copies; only one facility being taxed to their utmost capacity. The leader will be sent free to members of the Aviator Army on payment of postage, express or freight. Numbers as can be used effectively. Platforms will be ready for delivery June 1.

WHEN privilege feeds the populace bleeds.

THE Co-operative Commonwealth is not "coming." We are merely advancing to it.

THE Socialist is the world's school-master. He is teaching mankind how to really live.

THE class struggle is such a hideous fact it cannot be hidden or mended by sprinkling rose water.

You know how much you got it. It is time for you to consider how much you really made, and to figure on the difference.

THE capitalist is the iceberg in the path of the ship of the state, but there is yet time to save it from being sunk by the threat.

THE 70,000 divorces granted annually under capitalism do not worry the religionists who are afraid that Socialism will destroy the home.

The criminal steals part of what has been stolen from him as a worker; then he goes to prison, and the state helps to rob him of several times as much as he stole.

A FILLAR of fire by day and of cloud by night! The Socialist movement, which seems a dread blackness to the privileged, is to the worker the brightest light that has ever fallen athwart his path.

THE social evil is one cog in the capitalist machine. It grinds womanhood to profit, even as the machinery of production and distribution, capitalistically owned, grinds manhood and childhood to profits.

FEDERAL JUDGE HANFORD, the man who was hung in effigy by the citizens of his own community, has added to his fame by cancelling the citizenship papers of Comrade Oleson, on the ground that as a Socialist he is opposed to the present constitution of the United States and therefore an undesirable citizen. This incident will serve to illustrate forcibly the APPEAL's oft repeated statement that the federal court has no place in modern society. The federal judge is atavistic—a reversion to the time when feudal lords functioned as the sole arbiters over the lives and liberties of men. If the federal judge can arbitrarily revoke the citizenship papers of a Socialist because he advocates a change in the fundamental forms of our government, then it will not be long until the Socialist will be legal grounds for disfranchisement.

YOUR library is incomplete if you do not possess a copy of Comrade Wayland's Leaves of Life. This is the personal story of this warrior of the social revolution and covers a period of twenty years of active work. It is filled with the fire of a soul thrilled by the message of the Coming Day. This book is bound in fine morocco leather with flexible covers. It contains 100 pages printed on fine paper. This book is not for sale at any price. It is given only to those who send us twenty subscriptions. This book, once in your possession, you would not part with it for a good many times what it cost you to procure it.

A CONTENTED slave is the bond that binds a thousand discontented slaves.

Closing Hours of Convention

By telegraph to the APPEAL.
 Indianapolis, Ind., May 18.—By vote of 191 to 90 following section was inserted in constitution.

"Any member of the party who opposes political action or advocates sabotage or other methods of violence as a weapon of the working class to aid in its emancipation, shall be expelled from membership in the party. Political action shall be construed to mean participation in elections for public office, and practical legislative and administrative work along the lines of the Socialist party platform."

The Socialist party platform as reported by committee creates a national executive committee elected by the national committee, and greatly increases the power of the latter.

"IT CAN'T BE DONE."

That is what the average fellow says about anything new that is put up to him. He is certain that it is impossible, impracticable, that it won't work, and that "it can't be done." It is new to him and he cannot understand that anything can be done unless it has been done before. He simply accepts what is as the sum of what is forever to be and when you approach him with a new idea you and it are certain to meet with a cold reception.

All the changes you meet who say "it can't be done" are opposed to Socialism. They vote the republican ticket or the democratic ticket because it runs in the family and they know that it can be done. To their unthinking minds they are engaged in practical politics. They are doing the things about which there is no question as to whether they can be done. They do not think and they do not progress—except as they are forced out of the old ruts in spite of themselves.

Opposed to these moss-covered fellows who say "it can't be done" there are a few few live and alert men and women who assert that it can be done and then proceed to do it in the face of a sneering and ginsaying world. They lead in the march of progress and are at the head of the line. They have to pay dearly for their pioneering in the scorn and contempt of the unthinking majority who object to being lifted out of the ruts and having a new idea disturb the cobwebs in atrophied brains, but the price is worth paying for in the persecution they meet with and the drive through which they pass the drive through strength and glory of manhood and womanhood and their names remain to bear testimony that they lived and served and that because of their having lived and served humanity has risen from caves and jungles to the shining heights of civilization.

Debs' Acceptance

The following telegram notifying Eugene Debs of his nomination for the presidency by the national convention of the Socialist party at Indianapolis was received from James W. Reilly, secretary of the convention.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 17, 1912.
 Eugene Debs, Girard, Kan., via Terre Haute, Ind.

Socialist party in convention assembled. I am glad to inform you of the nomination for the presidency by the national convention of the Socialist party at Indianapolis. The party enters the campaign stronger and more united than ever before.

JAMES W. REILLY, Secretary.

Upon receipt of the foregoing Comrade Debs wired the following acceptance:

James W. Reilly, Secretary Socialist party, Indianapolis, Ind., May 17, 1912.

Greetings. This is to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of notification and to thank you and through you the delegates of the Socialist party at Indianapolis for the nomination of Eugene Debs to the presidency of the United States. I feel all the greater my obligation to you and to the collective will of my comrades in convention assembled and to yield obedience to the collective will of my comrades in the full extent of my power. I feel all the greater my obligation to you and to the collective will of my comrades in convention assembled and to yield obedience to the collective will of my comrades in the full extent of my power. I feel all the greater my obligation to you and to the collective will of my comrades in convention assembled and to yield obedience to the collective will of my comrades in the full extent of my power.

With hearty greetings to the convention and to all who are contributing to make this our year. It is written in our stars that Socialism is to be the only issue in the coming campaign. Let us all unite and serve with all our energies to make this the year of the international movement.

Your comrade and fellow worker, EUGENE V. DEBS.

THE wages of the best paid workers in the land for one day would not buy one meal for your lah-de-da master. And he works not at all. It takes lots of slaves to keep a master and who, think you, are those slaves?

IF the workers who produce all things should not have the best of everything, who should? Those who produce nothing but mischief?

DO you believe that a nation that has public schools can always be governed in the same manner and for the same purpose as our ancestors who could not read nor write nor think?

THE master class, the owning class, here, as the royalty class of Europe, believe the workers should be satisfied with a hovel and a pittance, while they live in hoards and palaces. How long will the workers consent and vote for such a system?

THE moving picture shows are giving the masses some idea of how the rich live and riot in wealth the masses produce, and this creates new ideals and aspirations that must eventually produce social influences of tremendous importance. The poor never entered a rich man's house and never before knew how they lived.

THEY who do really useful service for the government at a measly wage are expected to save their money to protect them in incapacity or old age—but they who draw their thousands an I tens of thousands a year are retired on half pay? To those who have it will be given, but from those who have not shall it be taken.

EVERY citizen is entitled to a place to work, and any society not organized on this theory is not worth saving—at least not deserving the vote of any who must work, or tramp, or beg. Do you not have to ask (beg) for the permission of some owner for the right to work and produce? What kind of a thing are you, anyway?

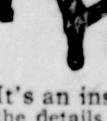

CAPITALISTS claim organized labor is a menace to industry and government, but organized labor is only a menace to organized capitalists and their control of government. But organized labor will not make much headway until it votes the Socialist ticket and takes away the government from the capitalists.

I SEE by recent dispatches that the English government has taken the great Irish estate of Lord Clanricarde, paid him $22 an acre, and is selling it in small tracts to his tenants on fifty years' term, though the lord did not want to sell. You see that the title to any property depends on the consent of a majority only. You nor I can own anything when a majority withdraw their consent. Hence capitalists have are willing to spend many millions at each election to get the majority to vote their tickets at that enables them to hold the capital they have exploited from the millions who labor.

EVEN GALVESTON DOING IT NOW

TAKES FIRST GAME FROM NAVY
GATORS, PITCHER BATTING IN WINNING RUN.

Bill Burroughs Presents Hardy With Goat, But It Fails to Change the Luck.

Even Galveston's doing it now.
Do you want?

Oh, yes, a kickin' our Navies around.

And it wasn't the goat's fault, either, except in an error of sex. Anybody ought to know that a ball club's goat is a Billy. So, of course, when Chief Fan Bill Burroughs bred out a Nannie it was a serious breach of hoedoo lore.

But, at that, things started pretty good. The goat got loose and romped around the lot during the first inning, and while loose, Galveston went out in one-two-three order. Then "Colton" made a thrilling catch, captured her goatship, and she was shoed out of the park, even before she could get a good chance to show her ability as a mascot. She should at least have been tied up at the club house.

So much for the goat.

This here thing of going into an extra inning and then having the opposing heavier win his own game is getting a little bit tiresome. Also it is dash-dinged, dash-dinged and a couple of pooh-poohs of hard luck.
A lanky lad of Scotch persuasion, one McAdams, was the offender. In spite of fighting a hard-fist battle all the way with Umpire Vansickle, this youth with the "Mac" prefixed to his name held the locals to four hits in ten innings, and then, in the tenth, duplicated Foster's trick of the day before and won his own game by batting in the winning run.

Game Was Slow.
It wasn't a pretty game from the fans' standpoint. In spite of the low score and the extra session. In the first place, Umpire Vansickle was ten minutes late and the crowd was restless when play was finally called.
Then it became apparent right away that the Sand Crabs were out after his scalp. The trouble started when McAdams persisted in pitching with one foot back of the rubber, and continued until Catcher Williams was pulled from behind the bat and ejected from the park.

But what hurt most was the almost total inability of the Navigators to hit the ball. There was a lot of hard luck in this, at that, for a hard headlined carried the high ones back and the line drives were hit straight at the fielders. For instance, in the sixth, when Tanner was on first and no one was out, Akin hit a line drive down the third base line that would not have been caught once in a hundred times. But Madden seemed to have a hunch, or something, being ten feet away from his position, and what might have swung the whole game was turned into a neat double play.

Chance in First Inning.
While the goat's influence was still at work, the locals were serious contenders. In the first inning, after Tanner struck out, Akin hit for two bases. Crichlow hit to Madden, who snapped the ball to third in time to cut Akin off. Maag messed Rennard's grounder and Wohlleben walked. As luck would have it, Stewart came up with the bases loaded. The center field had been moved down in the batting order for the first time,
and it just happened that the change threw him in a bad spot. He hit to Maag and the chance was gone.

In the second, still while the odor of the goat was present, Duguey was walked and Carson hit in the slats.
Lohman sacrificed. Tanner popped up. With two down, Akin hit a beauty over second, scoring Duguey.
On an attempted double steal, Carson was cut off at the plate. This ended all chances the Navies had to see the end of the circuit.

Some Errors, Too.
Galveston was practically helpless until the seventh, when, with one down, Williams hit safely, stole second, and went to third when Lohman threw wild to catch him off. Madden popped to Tanner, but Peebles hit safely and the score was tied.

McAdams duplicated Nelson's feat in the tenth. Peebles, first up, hit safely. Clemens struck out. Alexander, who had replaced Williams behind the bat, hit safe to right field.
Peebles going to third. Then McAdams laced out the single that sent in the winning run. Maag also hit, scoring Alexander, but the damage had been done and the extra run was a superfluous.

In Waco's half, McLaurin was sent in to bat for Carson, and started off with a nice hit, but Reilly, batting for Lohman, hit a fly to right; Tanner popped up, and Akin hit a grounder to Salm, and the game was over. The

RED CROSS WORK FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS OVER
By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, May 24.—With the departure from New Orleans today of Maj. S. P. Morris, the field work of the American Red Cross in the Mississippi valley in connection with the relief of flood sufferers is practically closed. The large relief corps of the United States army will be here at least two weeks long and on June 25th it is believed the major part of the 100,000 refugees will be able to return to their homes.

BUDAPEST MOB SETS CHURCH IN FLAMES

FIGHTING BETWEEN POLICE AND RIOTERS—DEADLY WEAPONS USED—MANY HURT.

By The Associated Press.

Budapest, May 24.—Fierce fighting between the strikers and the police and troops took place again today in Budapest, although the strikers had been ordered by the labor leaders to cease their agitation and return to work.

In the fighting the strikers used revolvers, stones and other missiles while the troops replied with volleys from their rifles. Many persons on both sides were wounded.
In all the battles the strikers were worsted.

As on Thursday, the mob today continued its wrecking tactics and much damage to property resulted.
Street cars were overturned, shops looted and in one instance a church was set on fire.

This government this evening succeeded in inducing the employers to take back the locked out metal workers and it was believed the trouble was at an end. Another riot, however, broke out later in the outer Wainzer boulevard, the second in that district today. The police finally suppressed it and arrested 140 of the demonstrators.

WALL PAPER MEN ARE ACQUITTED BY JURY

JOBBERS HELD NOT GUILTY OF CONSPIRACY IN RESTRAINT OF TRADE.

By The Associated Press.

Cleveland, O., May 24.—A verdict of not guilty was returned tonight in the federal court for the eight wall paper manufacturers and jobbers who were tried for alleged violation of the Sherman law in conspiring in restraint of trade.

The defendants were indicted here Oct. 8, 1911. The government's chief witness was Frank E.
Hall, Weaksville, N. J., who alleged he had been unable to buy wall paper of the defendants because of a conspiracy in to which they had gone against 50 and 100 stores of which he operated a chain.
Attorneys for the defense say the verdict demonstrated the ability of the manufacturers to discriminate as against "reasonable" and "unreasonable" agreements.

UNWISE TO PUT T. R. IN WHITE HOUSE, SAYS TAFT

Thinks Third Term Menace, Particularly for Teddy's Cause. He Has Delegates Enough.

By The Associated Press.
Jersey City, N. J., May 24.—"I have enough delegates to renominate me at the Chicago convention."

That was President Taft's declaration today. The president's second campaigning day through New Jersey was one of the hardest he has ever put in. For more than five hours he motored over dusty New Jersey roads, talked to thousands of people and kept up his attacks on Col. Roosevelt.

"It is a very unwise and dangerous thing to depart from that wise tradition that limits a president to two terms," said the president in a typical speech at Plainfield late today. "It is especially unwise with a man of Mr. Roosevelt's type, with his capacity for appealing to the people,
his ability to arouse the elements
that are disturbing the community, preaching doctrines of discontent with his powerful personality, with his unsound, unconstitutional views, and with his impatience of legal restraint. It would be a calamity to put him in the white house again."

Johnson to Come Back With Bacon Before Fifteenth

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, May 24.—John Arthur Johnson will bring home the bacon before the fifteenth round.

That was Champion Jack Johnson's final word tonight as he prepared to take a train early tomorrow morning for Las Vegas, N. M., where he will fight Jim Flynn July 4. Johnson's plan is to get down to hard training about June 15. He thinks he is in better shape than he was when he began to train for his fight with Jeffries.

MAUNA LOA SMOKE-HID.
By The Associated Press.

Honolulu, May 24.—Wireless messages from the island of Hawaii report that the summit of Mauna Loa is hidden in clouds so that from the inhabited valleys it is impossible to tell whether it is an active eruption or not. When last seen it was smoking.

The earthquake that shook Hawaii yesterday was not felt here, and the fragmentary dispatches thus far received contain no particulars of damage done. Except for mail steamers and trading schooners, there is no other avenue of communication.

Railway Mail Clerks' association's constitution to abolish the initiative

officers was defeated at today's session of the association in annual conference here. The vote was 42 to to carry the amendment.

REVIVALIST PREACHES ON BACKSLIDING THEME

SUMMER PROFESS CONVERSION
AFTER SERMON—NO MORN-ING SERVICE TODAY.

A number professed conversion following the sermon of the evangelist, Rev. M. F. Ham, at the union revival last night on "How Jesus Restored the Backslider, Simon Peter." He said in part:

"Jesus looked on Peter, but not to reprove or to say 'I told you so,' for love never says that. It matters not how fickle you have been, if you will come back to Him. He is always ready to receive you."

"Jesus will put himself out to call back the backslider. Simon, who denied Him, was the only one mentioned by name in Jesus' message to the disciples after the resurrection."
There will be no morning service
today, but the usual service tonight will be held at 8 o'clock. Sunday morning Evangelists Ham and Ramsey will rest, and each pastor will preach in his own pulpit.

A business men's prayer meeting is being held at the tabernacle every evening at 5 o'clock.

Literally Break Their Necks and Legs to Hear T. R.

By The Associated Press.

Trenton, N. J., May 24.—Two persons were run down by automobiles in the jam of people who were attempting to get within hearing distance of Colonel Roosevelt today.
A boy's leg was broken and an elderly man was run over, the automobile wheel passing over his neck.
It is feared that his neck is dislocated and he will probably die.

DARROW TRIAL BEGINS.
By The Associated Press.

Los Angeles, May 24.—Accused in the opening statement of the chief prosecutor with wholesale corruption of the jury and witnesses, Clarence S. Darrow, noted labor lawyer and author, on indictments charging attempted bribery of a juror in the McNamara case, was placed on trial this afternoon. It required only a brief time after the beginning of the afternoon session to accept A. M.
Blakeslee as the thirteenth or alternate juror.

The indictment alleges that Darrow bribed Geo. N. Lockwood, who was drawn as a juror in the trial of J. B. McNamara for murder in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building.

COTTON MARKET IS MORE ACTIVE

GENERALLY HIGHER, CLOSING STEADY AT A NET ADVANCE. WEATHER FAVORABLE.

By The Associated Press. New York, May 24.—The cotton market was rather more active today and ruled generally higher on covering for over the week-end and moderate support from some of the local spot houses. The close was steady at a net advance of 8 to 11 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 1 point on May, but generally unchanged to 2 points higher. Cables were about as due and the initial decline on May was attributed to the circulation of a few notices. These notices were said to have been very promptly stopped, however, and the entire turned firm after the call. The weather map was generally considered favorable and the forecasts were for clear weather in the belt with the exception of unsettled conditions for Arkansas, but the market continued to work gradually higher on covering and bull support. There was also some Liverpool buying here, and spinners were said to be calling cotton in the English market, while support from houses with Memphis connections was supposed to reflect the expectation of a bullish crop report from the National Ginners' association. Scattering private crop accounts reflected read more favorable and the talk around the ring reflected an increasingly optimistic view as to the probable showing of the government's condition figures early next month, but the selling was limited and the advance here during the afternoon had the encouragement of a comparatively big increase in the country's visible supply statement. Prices in the late trading showed a net gain of about 14 to 15 points on the active months, and the close was within 3 or 4 points of the best. Tomorrow will be a holiday in Liverpool.

Receipts 5822, against 8754 last week and 7665 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston 843, against 259 last year; at New Orleans 225, against 3184 last year; at Houston 629, against 183 last year.

KANSAS MAKES PRICES FOR THE WHOLE PIT

WEATHER AND CROP REPORTS FROM THERE CAUSE NERVOUSNESS IN MARKET.

By The Associated Press. Chicago, May 24.—Kansas made prices for the whole pit. The trade watched almost exclusively the varying news from that state regarding weather and crops. In the end the market was decidedly nervous and 1/4c under last night. Corn closed unchanged to 1/4c up, and oats at an advance of 1/4c. Provisions finished irregular, strong out of the decline to 1/2c up in cost. Experts declared that the question of a surplus yield of wheat to offset the big losses in the central states was hanging in the balance and that the outcome seemed to depend on Kansas. According to some advices, conditions were getting worse as a result of the heat, winds and drought. Fields in western and northern Kansas were reported to be burning brown.

Rains leading to further delay in plowing and planting furnished part of the reason for keeping the corn bulls in countenance. Cash grades were firm. Continued good demand for cash oats supplied further deliveries of that cereal. Moreover, there were many reports from Illinois and Indiana showing a good crop. The provision market had a neglected appearance. Outside orders especially were light. Prices drifted, but for the most part ended the same as twenty-four hours before.

The close follows: Wheat—May 11 1/4c, July 11 1/2c, Sept. 11 1/4c, Dec. 11 1/4c. Corn—May 8 1/4c, July 7 1/2c, Sept. 7 1/4c, Dec. 6 3/4c. Oats—May 5 3/4c, July 5 1/2c, Sept. 5 1/4c, Dec. 5 1/4c. Meal 2 1/2c, lint 2 1/2c to 3c.

NEW YORK DRY GOODS.

By The Associated Press. New York, May 24.—Trade in retail and jobbing houses was a little more active during the day. Wash fabrics, woven and printed, are being called for more generally. Local wool market was very firm. Yarns ruled quiet and barely steady.

ST. LOUIS WOOL.

By The Associated Press. St. Louis, May 24.—Wool steady; medium grades combed and clothing 20 1/2c, light fine 15 1/2c, heavy fine 12 1/2c, tub washed 27 1/2c.

STANDING ROOM ONLY.

(From the Popular Magazine.) Victor Murdock, who waves his angora-bored hair up and down the United States in his lecture tours, reached a small western town one afternoon and went to a barber shop to be shaved.

"You are a stranger in this town, sir?" the barber asked.

"Yes," replied Murdock. "We're having a good lecture here tonight," said the barber. "Victor Murdock is going to talk. He's a grand talker."

"So I have heard," agreed the lecturer. "Have you got your ticket yet?" the barber asked.

"Not yet," replied the other. "Then, sir, you'll have to stand."

"That's pretty tough!" exclaimed Murdock. "That fellow Murdock draws the biggest houses I ever heard of. I go to hear him whenever I am in town with him, and every time I have to stand."

STAGNATION EXISTS IN STOCK MARKET

OPENING IS MODERATELY ACTIVE, BUT FOLLOWING THAT DEALINGS FALL OFF.

By The Associated Press. New York, May 24.—Stagnation such as is not often witnessed during mid-summer overtook today's stock market. The first hour brought a very moderate degree of activity particularly in the low-priced issues, but after that dealings fell until the average was a little more than 30,000 shares an hour.

Despite the dullness, sentiment seemed to be mildly optimistic, the change being predicted in the negative fact that there was no selling pressure. In the morning there was a violent uprush in the tobacco shares, especially American Tobacco, which rose 7 points, but at midday practically all this gain was lost.

Other and more obscure stocks rose from one to two points but usual rise failed to elicit any pronounced response elsewhere. For the rest of the day the market dragged along listlessly, even the adoption of the subway plans by the local following failing to stir up any great amount of enthusiasm in the securities concerned.

It is estimated that exports will approximate $2,200,000,000 and imports $1,600,000,000, leaving a balance to American credit of $600,000,000. Raw cotton again leads while coffee retakes first in point of receipts.

The bond market, tantamount to a better tone with strength in the local traction and seaboard air line issues. Total sales per value aggregated $2,046,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

By The Associated Press. New York, May 24.—R. G. Dunn and Company's weekly review of trade tomorrow will say: The volume of business continues to expand as is evidenced by the statistics of bank clearings and railroad earnings. The situation during the past week has been improved by the much better weather, which has served to increase the retail and to some extent the wholesale distribution of merchandise.

There has been some lull in demand for iron and steel but a considerable tonnage is in prospect and price advances are made more freely. There is only fair activity in wire goods, the quotation of $1.60 for wire nails is stated in some instances, but tin plate for third quarter delivery has advanced. Fine cotton goods are quiet at first hand and the upward tendency in staple cotton goods is not marked. Advance fall business continues in better volume than in the past and while export trade is not active, shipments continue large for the year to date, 181,000 bales of domestics being sent out through New York against 121,000 bales during the same time a year ago.

Of 6,000 pieces of print cloths sold by Fall River last week about 1-2 were for spot delivery. Dress goods of a staple character are strong for fall delivery and business continues moderately active at textile centers as contrasted with the dullness of last year at this time. The trade is generally quiet in ribbons appear to be in growing demand.

Worsted yarns are in fair requirements and cotton spinners appear to be willing to name prices closer to buyers on late fall deliveries. Trade in foot wear is rather quiet on the whole, but sales are increasing at a number of points and the leather continues very firm. The trade as a whole, however, is considerably larger than last year.

SOCIETY LADS AND LASSES "IN BAD"

Special to The Morning News. Philadelphia, May 24.—Society here is shocked over the actions of twenty young daughters and sons of some of the most prominent families, who dressed in tight and skirts that reached but little below their waist lines but played leap frog in the ball room of the Hotel Stratford hotel immediately following the presentation of an amateur performance, "A Snug Little Kingdom," a Bohemian comedy, for the benefit of the American Stomach hospital.

The young people who are now under the ban are Misses Helen Kingsley, Edith Shaw, Lucy Shaw, Virginia Harris, Edith Cochran, Dorothy Cochran, Lucille Lippincott, Helen Gay, Ada Welshill and Edith Wilson, and Messrs. Theodore Bromley, Morton Evans, John Moffett, Percival Van R. Harris, G. Abbott Hunt Jr., Morris Gates, Wallace Hunt and John Stout, Henry Skerrett and William Spencer Jr.

The girls were dressed in tight and very little skirts while the young men wore abbreviated frock coats.

When the patronesses left the ball room the young people placed guards at the doors to warn them of their return and indulged in their game of leap frog.

After they had leaped over one another's backs for ten minutes, they danced the "Bunny Hug," the "Grizzly Bear" and other dances long since frowned upon here.

They were in the midst of their frolic when the patronesses returned and soon learned what had taken place. Now they are "in bad" with society leaders.

NOTICE. Thursday, May 30, 1912. Decoration day, being a legal holiday, all banks members of the Waco Clearing House association will be closed. C. M. VIVRETT, Manager.

COTTON PRICES DECLINE DURING THE LAST WEEK

VERY FAVORABLE REPORTS FROM TEXAS REACH NEW YORK FOR PERIOD.

By The Associated Press. New York, May 24.—Cotton prices have declined somewhat during the week. Some very favorable crop reports have come from Texas and even from parts of the eastern belt. Speculation in cotton futures has hesitated. It has been noticeably less active. Many prefer to await reports by the National Ginners' Association and the government. The ginners' association's statement of condition and acreage is expected tomorrow or on Monday.

There has been more or less selling on the assumption that all the bull news has come out and has been counted in the rise of prices since last January of $15 a bale. There have been evidences of a militant bullish sentiment. The price has resisted pressure. Bears have latterly shown a certain timidity. Spot sales in Liverpool have increased. The trade demand there is large. Continental shorts have been covering there and the offerings have been noticeably small. Throughout the south has been favored with the needed dry weather, the temperatures in some sections have been too low. Government entomologists warn southern farmers to be ready for a possible invasion of caterpillars. Spinners have been largely features here more freely. Large bull interests have given support.

Leading bulls of Wall street have bought. New Orleans bears have covered here. Memphis has sent great amount of enthusiasm in the securities concerned. It is estimated that exports will approximate $2,200,000,000 and imports $1,600,000,000, leaving a balance to American credit of $600,000,000. Raw cotton again leads while coffee retakes first in point of receipts.

The bond market, tantamount to a better tone with strength in the local traction and seaboard air line issues. Total sales per value aggregated $2,046,000.

STUDENTS TO BE HELD FOR THE COMMENCEMENT

Alumni Association Desires That All Remain in Austin.

Special to The Morning News. Austin, Tex., May 24.—A joint effort is to be made by the Alumni association, through its officers and many of the leading students co-operated with by members of the university faculty, to keep students in Austin for the commencement exercises. In previous years all students, except those graduating or those remaining to attend the final reception, have gone from the city at the conclusion of their examinations. The result has been that there are only a few to remain. This, it is believed, has created a bad impression on visitors and those of the alumni who return.

Reason largely, that of failing to see the student body, the graduates and ex-students have refrained from returning to the university in any great numbers. Those in charge of the commencement affairs now believe that when the student body can be shown the matter in the proper light and it dwains upon them that it is really a duty to remain there will be constantly increasing numbers remain and a corresponding increasing number to return.

But to reach this desired end there will of necessity need to be a change effected with reference to the form of entertainment offered. To obviate this difficulty the Alumni association, with the co-operation of the student body, has set about to add new entertainments and eliminate the old. In short, there is to be less of dancing, which attracts only a limited number, and more of general entertainment. With the introduction of this commencement will be the first of the new plan.

The only entertainment had previously, except the commencement exercises proper, were a formal dinner on Monday night and a formal reception on Tuesday night. Now it is the plan of the association to insist that the german held on Monday night be abolished or transferred to the morning, making a morning german, and offer in lieu of it something which will attract the masses. This year, whether the german is abolished or not, there will be general entertainment offered on Monday night. This will be in the form of a meeting on the campus, followed by a monster torchlight procession through the business section of the city, participated in by the alumni, faculty and members of the student body, to be concluded with a vaudeville on the roof garden of the Littlefield building. The actors and actresses in this affair will be associated with the university student body, the faculty of the Alumni association. One other thing looking toward making commencement a real home-coming attraction to the hundreds of students, is the abolition of the final ball. A movement is under way now to have this done. It is to be effected by moving it to an earlier date in the year; then it will be more satisfactory to all concerned. The weather will be much cooler, and it will give the entire student body an opportunity to attend. This "prom," which is given each winter by the students of Yale university.

DORA KEEN MAKES DASH.

Cordova, Alaska, May 23.—No word has been received for several days from Miss Dora Keen, the Philadelphia woman who is leading an expedition up Mount Blackburn, one of Alaska's unsealed peaks, but it is believed that the party is making the final dash for the summit.

Until two days ago a 14-day storm raged over the coast and the interior, but the last two days have been ideal for mountain climbing.

When the storm broke Miss Keen's party was camping at the timber line and was ready to resume the climb as soon as the weather cleared. The expedition is expected to return to Kennecott, the nearest railroad station to the mountain, within a few days.

SEAL OF CONFEDERACY

REGAINED BY RICHMOND

English Makers Identify Sacred Relic: Tale of Negro's Ownership Disputed.

Special to The Morning News.

Richmond, Va., May 23.—Announcement was made today that the great seal of the Confederate States of America which disappeared half a century ago had been found, identified by the English makers and acquired by Eppa Hunton, Jr., William H. White and Thomas F. Bryan of this city and brought back to Richmond, the old capital of the Confederate States.

The sacred relic was obtained from Rear Admiral Thomas O. Selfridge, U. S. N., retired, who got it from Col. John T. Pickett. The world stories told by James Jones, the colored hackman for President Jefferson Davis, that the great seal was in his possession are now forever set aside.

The seal will be placed in the Confederate museum or the Battle Abbey, now under construction may become its custodian.

WHAT IS A SARDINE?

London, May 23.—After a legal battle rivaling the anti-trust suits in American courts, the Guildhall court has decided that a sardine is any small fish packed in oil. The action took the form of a summons under the merchandise marks acts, at the instance of French sardine packers, against a Newcastle fishing company for false labeling sprats as sardines.

It was proved to the satisfaction of the court that the sardine of science is the immature pilchard, but it held that the name sardine has been applied so long to any small fish packed in a certain manner that no action could be taken against the Newcastle packers. Eminent counsel were engaged on both sides, and experts ranging from famulus caterers to the fish curators of the British museum were summoned to give testimony.

Transient—You are getting to be quite a city here, aren't you? Native—You bet. We've had the militia down here three times this year and the State Board of Health twice. Not bad, eh?—Satire.

Editorial Page of Waco Morning News

It is said that Hon. Oscar Underwood's campaign committee spent $30,000 in advertising in the Georgia newspapers. How effective it was the result showed. There are some people who will cry "subsidized press," but there is no foundation for such a cry, any more than there would be for the statement that newspaper men were purchased by the customers who patronize their columns all the time, or that any business man was subsidized by those who spend money with him. The power of the press is a recognized force in any endeavor, and, if a man, or a campaign committee, desires to reach the people with reasons that a certain man should be nominated, they can find no better way than by buying advertising space, marked advertising copy, in the newspapers. It is a great deal better to pay the papers for what they have to sell than to try to steal or sneak their publicity like a great many do who run for office. The News has no patience with those people who stand ready to cry subsidized press when elections do not go to suit them. It is a question of whose dog is kicked. No election can, in these strenuous times, be held without money and no candidate can win a race without money. This is to be deplored, but it is a fact, and the people are to blame with it, and if a candidate chooses to spend a part of his campaign fund that his friends have raised for him in letting the people know about him, in the papers where has he done any wrong? It is no more a wrong than to send out literature through the mails or go about over the country telling the people with a loud noise about your virtues. In truth, the newspaper advertising plan is the most dignified way in which to conduct a campaign, and the press of the country should unanimously resent the charge of subsidizing, no matter from what source it emanates.

Isn't it wonderful how the conventions have become more numerous within the past few years, and how much larger the attendance? It looks like we are becoming just a little bit convention wild. Every kind of calling and craft is now organized, and they meet in convention once a year, to discuss matters of mutual interest and to become better acquainted. There is nothing wrong in this, but on the contrary it is commendable, for it has a tendency to broaden men and women, and inculcate a more brotherly spirit among all classes of people. But these conventions are becoming just a little bit too much of a junking trip for some, who never go inside the convention hall, but have a hurrah time until the end of the convention. However, the good done very largely overbalances this failing, and out of it all is coming a broader citizenship and a more tolerant people. Those who stay at home all the time are very apt to grow conventional and narrow in their thoughts, believing that they have all the wisdom and most of the virtue, but those who get away from home and mix and mingle with the crowd discover that they do not know as much as they thought they did, and they learn from others how to do things differently, and return home with ideas that are of much interest to them. They learn that most everyone is on about the same plane, each can learn from the other, and each needs the other in order to expand and develop.

While we are writing, a lot of little children are playing on a lot near by. They are rolling a huge iron topless tank, screeching and laughing as they try to balance themselves and as they tumble to the ground. It makes us long to be a child again to see these children having such a good time, with so little to help them do so. Youth is the most precious thing in all the world, and though we can never have it but once, we should never grow so old that we can not be happy in the happiness of little children, in whose hearts there is nothing but innocence and happiness. How sweet are the memories of malcyon days when youth made each hour a delightful one, and gilded each evening sky with golden hopes for tomorrow. Let them romp and play and scream and shout while they can, for the years soon come in which they can only watch others enjoy the thrills that belong only to youth. He who would deprive a child of a single laugh does not understand the heart of God, for He would have them store up in their innocent childhood sweet recollections for the dim and shadowy days that will come when the evening shadows fall, and the ashes fall in the grate cold and dead.

No one ever attempted to stay progress without being injured by the effort, for nature is progressive. No man or nation can stand still, but, if success of any measure be obtained, onward must be the watchword. The interurban, the automobile and the flying machines are evidence of the rapidity with which we are moving on toward our destiny, and he who is wise will join the progressives and push with all their might. Come to Waco and push with a good "bunch."

The next meeting of the Texas Press association will go to San Antonio. By the time that this meeting is held the interurbans will be finished from Dallas to Waco, and a line will be projected toward San Antonio. Things are happening rapidly these strenuous days. Don't sleep too long, or you will wake up and not be able to find the way to the city.

No one can predict now who will be the Democratic nominee, for no one will be able to control the convention at Baltimore with any kind of a combination. Some dark horse may wear the honors that the others have striven so hard for. It is the way of the world, for fate has always stepped in and arranged things according to its own notion, no matter whose ambitions are trampled upon.

Wise men die, but their wisdom does not perish with them, for wisdom is universal and belongs to mankind. The wisest of men have only learned a little more of the secrets of nature than those who have gone before, but once they have unlocked the treasure store, it belongs to all mankind, and though the possessor of the knowledge perish, the knowledge can not be destroyed.

Don't be too ready to criticize the fellow who falls, for if you will scan your own life closely, you will find that you might have fallen, for in your make-up you have two distinct natures, and, if you are human, you have taken a few chances, just as the other fellow, but by some kind providence he was caught and you escaped.

Friends are the very best asset that any man can have, and by friends we mean those people who trust and have confidence in us. A man's usefulness is limited by the number of his friends, and he who can project his personality into the lives of the most people can accomplish the most in the world work.

If we were to all get perfectly good, like some of the people say that they would like for us to be, there would be lots of us out of a job, and we would grow wicked again quarreling over the few jobs left.

Ignorance is very seldom bliss, although it is said that "sheer ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise." Happiness comes with knowledge, and ignorance is the mother of wretchedness and discontent.

There is one consolation about the primaries, they come during the watermelon season, and the defeated candidates can comfort themselves with the rich red heart of ice cold melon.

It is a question who has done the most, he who has builded a great business or he who has cheered many weary hearts with sweet songs and rippling laughter.

IOWA AD CLUB IS LIVE ORGANIZATION

MEMBERS ARE MAKING TRIP OVER TEXAS IN SPECIAL CAR. TWENTY ARE IN PARTY.

Among the Waco visitors yesterday were thirty representatives of Des Moines' Ad Men's Club at convention of Associated Advertising Clubs of America, traveling in a special car on a circle tour over Texas.

Members of the party are: C. H. McDonald, manager Des Moines division of Mitchell Advertising Agency.

M. H. Hargrave, advertising manager of Younger Bros. department store.

J. B. Runyan, advertising manager of Mandelbaums' department store.

Herbert M. Harwood, advertising manager the Wilkins' Store, and secretary of the Des Moines club and the Associated Advertising Clubs of Iowa.

C. W. Kendall, Des Moines Electric Company.

T. W. Dodd, Dodd & Struthers, lighting rods.

Carl K. Smith, the Carl K. Smith press.

August Fohl, manager for Iowa Burroughs Adding Machine Co.

Charles Tobin, advertising manager of magazine "Iowa Factories."

L. C. Perkins, Des Moines Coal, Fuel and Lime Co.

B. E. Williams, president Capital City Commercial College.

Lloyd Waddell, manager Des Moines Duplicating Co.

F. L. Barnett, sales manager Des Moines Laundry.

W. W. Lawrenson, Herman Glove Company.

C. C. Cooper, manager Northwestern Suspenders Co.

B. O. M. Bonebrake, advertising manager Dodd & Struthers, lighting rods.

E. O. Wallace, American Lithographing Co.

W. S. Hodgson, Harry O. Brown, banker.

George Hargrove, advertising manager Des Moines Silo Co.

Many Des Moines delegates were accompanied by their wives.

The Des Moines club won Printers' Ink Cup for two years, the trophy being awarded to the ad club showing the greatest usefulness to the community in which the members reside.

President George W. Coleman said in the recent convention, "No club commands any more respect than the Des Moines club. It stands among the highest in the national association."

In order not to win the cup and retire it from circulation the club did not enter the contest this year. The Advertising Men's League of New York won the trophy.

Members of the Des Moines club urged study of markets in ad club educational work, aided in presenting resolutions on the patent means of advertising in commerce which is alleged to hurt the retailer, and advocated a change in the methods of choosing the next convention meeting places in the convention held at Dallas.

VETERINARIANS FORM STATE ASSOCIATION

Organize at McGregor, Electing Officers; Will Meet at Temple in September.

A state association of veterinarians has been organized at McGregor, and the following officers have been elected for the first year: President, F. R. Wingrove, McGregor; vice-president, F. R. Tubbs, Stephenville; secretary, E. R. Stine, Taylor. A large number of veterinarians from all sections of Texas were present at the initial meeting, which has been called at Temple, September 2 and 3.

BAYLOR FACULTY AND STUDENT TO PLAY TODAY

A baseball game is scheduled between the faculty and the regular ball team on the college campus, this afternoon. The game will be called at 4 o'clock sharp, and will be played for the campus championship, and incidentally to raise funds for the benefit of the football training camp, which will be inaugurated during the summer.

ATLANTA CLUB HEAD AN ENTHUSIASTIC MAN

St. Elmo Massengale of Atlanta, who is chairman of the Atlanta delegation and delegate at large from the Atlanta Ad Men's club, Mr. Massengale is the southern member of the national educational committee and has taken a prominent part in the meeting of the A. A. C. of A. at Dallas. Mr. Massengale heads the Atlanta delegation, which is one of the largest representations, according to the membership of its club, on the trip. The Atlanta club was largely instrumental in bringing the convention of the ad men to Texas this year.

The City of Actualities, our beloved Waco. We are glad to have looked into your intelligent radiant faces, and to have taken your hands in ours for a cordial hand shake, and are glad you are with us notwithstanding the fact that a certain old codger, while in a meditative mood said of you, that you were a chronic conundrum without an answer, an unknown quantity, possessed of unexpected possibilities; woman's greatest earthly blessing; and the cause of most man's sorrow and financial embarrassment; workers of miracles who strengthen the weak and weaken the strong; at times you destroy reason and turn wise men into fools, and fools into wise men, and you are an aggregation of other attributes too numerous to mention, but, Ad Men, if these be faults, we know that you have a thousand virtues for every one of them, and we are still glad to have you, and believing you will always be glad that you made us this little visit.

"Yes, Ad Men of America, we feel honored that you are our guest, and right sorry are we that you are so soon to leave us, but when you have gone from us, remember that our good wishes will follow you wherever you go, and those wishes are that fortune will lay in wait for you, and, if you ever go to a warmer place than you hold in the hearts of the Waco people tonight, may the good Lord have mercy on your souls."

NEBRASKA IS FLOATED.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, May 24.—The United States first-class battleship Nebraska, after being stuck for several hours tonight on a mud bank on the outer bar of Southwest Pass, at the mouth of the Mississippi river, got clear at 10:50 o'clock tonight without assistance and passed out into the gulf. The vessel was reported uninjured.

NEGOTIATE FOR UNION.

By The Associated Press.

Baltimore, May 24.—Negotiations for organic union between the Methodist Protestant and the United Brethren church, which had been broken off, are to be renewed by the terms of a resolution adopted almost unanimously at today's meeting of the general conference of the Methodist Protestant church here.

"WACO KNOWS HOW" SAYS OMAHA AD MAN

DELEGATION CHAIRMAN SPEAKS WORDS OF HIGH PRAISE FOR CENTRAL CITY.

"Waco certainly knows how" was the statement of Victor White, chairman of the Omaha delegation, which is one of the larger parties entertained here yesterday. "We thought Dallas had made a splendid effort to show the visitors what true Southern hospitality is, but Waco deserves just as much praise as the convention city. For a town of its size to entertain so many and do it in so elaborate a manner was unexpected. Our hats are off to Waco."

The Omaha delegation is taking a special car for the four-day tour of the state. Some members of the party will leave the train at Galveston and return to Omaha by the way of New Orleans and St. Louis.

MAXWELL MERCURY RUNS AHEAD OF AD TRAIN

The Maxwell Mercury, leaving Dallas at the same time that the Ad Men's special train did, made the distance to Waco in three hours and forty minutes, arriving ahead of the train by twenty minutes. This same car left Waco with the Ad Men's train on the second part of the thousand-mile race against a special train, which has right of way over everything, not making a stop except in the largest towns of Texas. After leaving Waco this Maxwell car went straight to Temple, arriving there ahead of the train. Mr. Boett, the driver, expects to arrive in San Antonio early in the morning, with a good lead on the train.

This wonderful road car has pulled off several stunts of this kind in the state and hopes to make a successful race with the Ad Men's train to the coast. This car can make a mile a minute on the road or run as slow on high speed as the most careful person could wish, without the slightest change in the adjustment of the car. This car is very beautiful in appearance, easy riding, and is very economical in the consumption of gasoline and oil. This car can be seen at Percy Willis' sales room, 714-716 Austin avenue.

CONDITIONS IN CUBA.

By The Associated Press.

Santiago, May 24.—The insurgents today burned the Cuñera bridge of the Guanantamo and Western railway, which is an American property.

Armed bands of negroes are reported in the vicinity of Baracoa and Victoria de los Tumas.

Owing to the longshoremen's strike and the interruptions to railroad traffic, Santiago is running short of supplies, and application has been made to the government to send a gunboat here with provisions and also with arms for the defense of the city.

A committee of veterans left Santiago this afternoon to hold a parley with the insurgent leader.

DROUTH IN ISLANDS.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, May 24.—The market for the principal Philippine island staples—rice, hemp, sugar and tobacco—may be affected by a report by cable here that a bureau from the governor of the Philippines islands that, due to an almost continuous eight-months' drouth, there will be a shortage in all these products of 50 per cent for rice, 5 per cent for hemp, 20 per cent for sugar and 10 per cent for tobacco.

SPRINGS OWN DEATH TRAP.

Special in The Morning News.

Rawlins, Wyo., May 24.—Springing his own death trap, Joseph Best at the state prison here today paid the penalty for the murder of Wm. Lloyd.

Best walked to the gallows, where he was to hang himself with head erect and with a slight smile on his face. He stepped quietly on the trap and pulled a plug from a bucket of water, which, emptying, released the weight that sprung the trap.

ORDER MORE HINDER TWINE.

By The Associated Press.

Mineral Wells, Tex., May 24.—More binders' twine has been ordered for this section this year than on any previous season on account of the big grain crop in sight.
